TO BE 200 CARS IN COMING TOUR AROUND STATE

Such Is the Prediction of Well-Known Atlanta Auto Enthusiasts.

THOMASVILLE WIRES ONE, PROMISES OTHER ENTRIES

Plan of Tour Impresses Private Owners, and Many of Them Will Make the Run---Lozier and Speedwell to Leave Early Monday to Make the Official Measurements of the Course.

One new entry yesterday and a dozen prospects for the 'Round-the-State Tour.

This brings the total to eighteen entries and one official car, making nineteen in all.

They are coming.

"I would not be surprised to see 200 cars in the tour," said W. D. Alexander, of the Alexander-Seewald Company. "I know half a dozen people who are planning to go. My son will probably enter and drive the Brush which he drove in the Atlanta-New York run. The tour just suits me. I would not join one where you have to run your tires off to keep up with the procession. That kind of sport does not appeal to me, but this leisurely trip, which will afford an entrant an opportunity to see his friends and customers and prospects in each town, hits me just right."

Cooper Wires Entry.

C. W. Cooper, president of Thomasville's Board of Trade and one of the most widely-known and successful business men in southern Georgia, wired in an entry yesterday. Mr. Cooper will drive a Cole "30" and he will probably represent the board of trade. The members of the organization have been talking about sending along literature to advertise Thomasville.

In his message, Mr. Cooper said: "More entries to follow."

Thomasville has also been going along figured on putting in eight or ten cars. The city has something like sixty automobile owners and they have taken a deep interest in the coming tour.

"If I can get the car I want, a 1911 Model Cadillac, I will be in the tour," said Mr. Wight, of Steinhauer & Wight. "I want to go most of the towns on the route on business, and this tour will fit in exactly with my plans. I am glad that the conditions allow plenty of time for an entrant to stop over in towns and see friends."

The Best.

"That was a fine list of entries for a starter," said J. Austin, manager for the United Motor Company. "I do not recall having ever seen an entry list for any tour get up like this one did. And there will be scores of cars to come in. I hear people every day talking about going in it. The conditions seem to meet the approval of 90 per cent of the private owners as well as the dealers. It looks to me as if it will be a great event in southern motoring affairs."

"The Constitution's list of entries was certainly great," said George D. Lowe, editor of The Tarage. "I was surprised to see such an interest exhibited at the very beginning. Usually entries come slowly and it is not until the last day or two that they are sent in. I take it that the large number received on the first day is strong proof of general interest in the enterprise all over the state. I know personally of numbers of car owners who expect to take part in the run."

H. J. Lee, manager of the Diamond Rubber Company's Atlanta branch, said: "I have been watching developments in the proposed tour around the state ever since it was first proposed. I have no doubt that it will have a great many entries. I know several prospective entries. We are always interested in big tours and keep close tab on them because they test our goods.

"The general prior for this tour will impress about I think that

INVOLVES BANKER MORSE IN ATTACKING HEINZE

The announcement of the engagement of Fritz Augustus Heinze, Montana copper magnate and New York banker, to Bernice Henderson, an actress in "A Fool There Was" company, has aroused the ire of Lillian Hobart French, who asserts that she was very intimate with the millionaire for twelve years. Mrs. French has notified her lawyers to commence suit against Heinze for the recovery of some stock in a mining company which she alleges was worth $25,000. She says that Heinze gave her the stock and that she loaned it to him during the panic of 1907 in an effort to save him from ruin. She also connects Banker Morse, now in the Atlanta penitentiary, with the operations of Heinze in an effort to make profits out of a stock deal just before the panic. Mrs. French has exhibited a number of endearing letters alleged to have been written by Heinze to her as evidence that he is under certain obligations to her.

BALLINGER MAY QUIT AS RESULT OF CONFERENCE

Secretary Now on the Way to Washington to Go Before Cabinet.

BALLINGER'S POSITION :LARED UNTENABLE

Rumors Constant and Definite Abound in Washington to the Effect That Ballinger Will Resign---His Friends Declare He Will Not if He Is Supported by Taft and the Cabinet.

Washington, September 16.—Whether Richard A. Ballinger's resignation as secretary of the interior will follow immediately upon the meeting of the cabinet September 26, to attend which he is now en route from Seattle, or whether he will retain his position indefinitely, at least uptil after the delivery to congress of the reports of the committee which investigated his stewardship of the public domain, depends now upon the attitude of his cabinet associates.

Mr. Ballinger is coming to Washington, his friends here insist, wholly unconscious of any act on his part, either of commission or omission, for which he should be condemned, and has determined to force his chief and his official colleagues to be in effect his judges. If they concur in the view at present attributed to Mr. Taft that

MAYOR GAYNOR IS FAST RECOVERING AND HE MAY MAKE RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, has so far recovered from the effects of the shot fired by James J. Gallagher on August 9 that he is able to visit places of interest with members of his family. He recently attended the horse show at St. James, near his country home on Long Island, and while there three of his children won trophies. Those in the picture are: From left to right—Norman Gaynor, Helen Gaynor, Gertrude Gaynor, Mayor Gaynor, Mrs. Vingut and Mr. Vingut.

Mule Caused Killing.

Roanoke, Va., September 16.—A special today from Bluefield says Hadley Lockert was instantly killed, and his brother, Leonard Lockert, seriously wounded by James Rosenthal, in Washington county, Va. The Lockerts traded a mule to Rosenthal, but becoming dissatisfied, started away with the animal. Rosenthal fired on them with a double-barrelled shot gun.

ATLANTA DECKED IN GALA ATTIRE FOR CONVENTION

Odd Fellows Will Be Taken Today on Excursion to Cotton Fields.

MARIETTA WILL GIVE WELCOME TO VISITORS

Automobiles Will Be Provided to Take the Visitors From Marietta to Kennesaw Mountain to Look Over Battlefield, and Afterwards They Will Be Taken to Cotton Fields.

With all Atlanta dressed in gala attire to greet the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, and every preparation made for their reception, the opening entertainment of the convention will begin this noon, when the visitors from every part of the globe will be taken on special cars to Marietta and there shown a typical southern cotton field and have a practical demonstration of one of the leading industries of this section of the country.

The excursion to Marietta will start promptly at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon from the station of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company on Walton street. Five special cars have been provided, with a carrying capacity of 400. These cars will be obliged to start on time so as not to interfere with the schedule of the road, so everyone is requested to be on the spot at the appointed hour.

Entertainment in Marietta.

In addition to the members of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, this entertainment is also open to members of the military council, grand secretaries, past grand representatives, members of the fraternal press and ladies.

Upon arriving at Marietta the party will be met by the city officials, headed by Mayor Clay, by the Marietta board of trade and a large delegation of local Odd Fellows. Between fifty and sixty automobiles have been provided to take the party to Kennesaw mountain, where the historic battleground will be visited. Before the return to Marietta the federal cemetery and other points of interest will be visited.

Elaborate preparations have been made for dining the visitors on the lawn of the Marietta public square. After a picnic luncheon, consisting of fried chicken and other southern delicacies, has been served, there will be an address of welcome by Mayor Clay and a response by Grand Sire W. L. Kuykendall, of Saratoga, Wyo.

At 3:30 o'clock the party will board the cars again for the trip to the cotton field. Belmont farm, owned by Judge Morris, has been selected as the plantation which will best exemplify the cotton industry of the south. There the visitors will be received with true southern hospitality and be extended every courtesy.

In the Cotton Fields.

At this season of the year the visitors will be able to see the cotton at

FAIR OFFICIALS TO MAKE TOUR

According to Assurances Made Georgia Party.

Greater Georgia Association Party Given Warm Welcome at Cincinnati---President Reynolds and Directors to Enter 'Round-the-State Tour.

Cincinnati, Ohio, September 16.—(Special.)—The Greater Georgia Association invaded Cincinnati today and received a hearty welcome and the assurance of a splendid attendance from this section for the landowners' exposition to be held in Atlanta, November 14 to 27, and the Georgia corn show, which is to immediately follow it.

Edwin P. Ansley, of Atlanta, and Commissioner of Agriculture Thomas G. Hudson had a cordial conference with President Robert R. Reynolds, Secretary P. Lincoln Mitchell and the directors of the Ohio Valley Exposition Company, at which they invited these gentlemen to come to Atlanta on October 17 to take the auto tour round the state in The Constitution's Great Good Roads contest.

They expressed themselves as delighted with the invitation and President Reynolds and a large number of the directors promised to accept the invitation. These gentlemen, as a result of the exhibit of "The South and Its Resources" which the railroads of the south are displaying at the Ohio Valley exposition, have become intensely interested in the south and were quick to welcome the opportunity to get a first-hand view of Georgia.

Publicity for Tour.

Their tour over Georgia will undoubtedly result in a great increase

COUNTY LEADERS SEE ROOSEVELT

But the Colonel Is Mum Upon the Result.

County Politicians From All Parts of New York State Gather in Theodore Roosevelt's Offices to Discuss State Situation.

New York, September 16.—County politicians from all parts of New York state gathered today at Theodore Roosevelt's editorial offices to tell him where they stand in the fight now on within the republican party. The colonel talked from morning till night with leaders on both sides, but as he was leaving at the end of the day, the only statement he would make was that he had not a word to say.

"I cannot discuss it at all," he said emphatically, when pressed for some word as to what he had learned about the strength of the forces he is marshaling against the old guard.

Some of those who saw Colonel Roosevelt today brought back word that he had been informed of disaffection within his own ranks, but none of them was willing to go on record by name.

Against Roosevelt.

George Cromwell, president of the borough of Richmond and a member of the republican state committee, was the only one who did not hesitate to say where he stood.

"I'm going to vote against Roosevelt," he said. "I have taken that resolution after thinking it over carefully and I hear nothing but commendation from my people in Staten Island."

Mr. Cromwell's stand provoked comment in that he has often spoken of his friendship for Colonel Roosevelt, dating back to their boyhood days, and that his statement was made today directly after a long conference with him.

ATTEMPTED SMUGGLING CHARGED TO MILLIONAIRE

New York, September 16.—Mengo L. Morganthau, the millionaire candy manufacturer, who returned from Europe yesterday on the Mauretania, appeared at the customs house today and admitted to the customs authorities that in the declaration he made on the arrival of the steamship, he had failed to mention all the things which he and his family had brought with them, including $9,000 worth of jewelry.

Morganthau was arrested and will be arraigned before Commissioner Shields, charged with attempted smuggling.

GRAHAME-WHITE GIVEN CHECK FOR $10,000

Boston, September 16.—The brilliant aerial exploits of Claude Grahame-White, the British aviator, were applauded tonight at a banquet at the Algonquin club.

The feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Grahame-White by General Charles H. Taylor, proprietor of The Boston Globe, of a check for $10,000, representing the prize offered by The Globe for the Boston Light trip of 33 miles.

SHELBY SMITH IS GIVEN PLACE

Said to Have Been Promised Frank Davis.

But Davis Was a Brown Man, While Smith Was Hoke Smith Man; So When Oil Inspector's Place Came Up After Primary Smith Was Reappointed.

Shelby Smith, recently elected as a member of the board of county commissioners of Fulton county, has been reappointed by Commissioner of Agriculture T. G. Hudson, it is stated, as oil inspector for Fulton county for another term of two years, beginning October 1.

It is generally understood that Mr. Smith's appointment has been made despite the fact that Frank C. Davis, a well-known real estate man of Atlanta, had been promised the position.

Did Primary Cause Change?

It is reported further that Mr. Davis was promised the appointment effective October 1, 1910, prior to the primary election held on August 23, and that Mr. Smith's reappointment was determined upon by the commissioner of agriculture since the primary.

Mr. Hudson is out of the city this week and inquiries regarding the appointment were referred to him, and will have to wait for an answer until he returns.

When asked about the matter Mr. Davis stated that he was not ready to talk, but that he would issue a statement Saturday in regard to it.

Commissioner Hudson, it is reported, promised Mr. Davis the position of oil inspector prior to the election, and also told Governor Brown that Mr. Davis would be appointed. Mr. Davis was a strong supporter of Governor Brown. Mr. Smith, who, it is said, has been appointed to succeed himself as oil inspector, was a strong supporter of Governor-elect Smith.

Question as to Two Offices.

Since Mr. Smith has been elected as a county commissioner, the question has arisen as to whether or not he can legally hold both offices. Legal opinions differ on this point. A parallel case, so far as is known, has never come before the courts of

WATSON DECIDES TO FINISH SPEECH

Engages Orpheum for Wednesday Night.

Speech Will Be Tame Enough, He Says, but to Guard Against Interruptions Admission to the House Will Be by Invitation Only.

Tom Watson is going to finish that speech!

Undismayed by the refusal of a portion of his former audience to listen to him, undaunted by the jeers and hoots which made it impossible for him to continue his talk in the Auditorium, and unshaken in his belief that there are thousands of Atlantans who are anxious to hear him discuss present issues, the McDuffie statesman is coming back to try it over again, and at the Orpheum theater on next Wednesday night he will deliver at least a portion of his so far undelivered message to Atlanta citizenry.

However, it will be a more subdued (if such a term may be applied to the fiery Thomsonian) speaker who appears on the Orpheum stage. He will, according to his own announcement, have left personalities, in a large measure, behind him and will deal solely with measures. He is going to tell what he thinks of the rules and rules committee of the convention which met in Atlanta on September 1, nominated Hoke Smith for governor and chose the platform upon which he shall run.

Big Audience Is Certain.

As to how Mr. Watson is going to make a speech, especially one on this subject, without getting "worked up" or without having "brought along" some of his noted personalities, is a matter which is attracting interest from center to circumference of this old burg, but Mr. Watson says he's going to be tame enough, and he has made for himself a reputation for living squarely up to his promises. Be that as it may, however, since the announcement that Mr. Watson is to make another address here, hundreds have expressed their intention of hear-

ADVERTISING TALKS

WRITTEN BY

WILLIAM C. FREEMAN.

I saw an editorial in The Sioux City (Iowa) DAILY NEWS headed "BEN AND DAVE AND ABE." The heading seemed to me unusual. Therefore, I read the editorial just as you and I read advertisements that attract our attention.

The first paragraphs read as follows:

"If you want to do business in four-story blocks, you must do it on the level.

"Put that in your little clay pipe, young man, and have a smoke on the Davidson Brothers."

They impressed me and I read on. I WANTED TO LEARN WHY A NEWSPAPER WOULD GIVE OVER ITS LEADING EDITORIAL SPACE TO EXPLOITING A BUSINESS FIRM. I soon found out.

It seems that the Davidson Brothers STAND VERY HIGH in their home town, and the business and professional men of Sioux City turned out to congratulate them on the completion of parts of their new store.

Putting up a new store does not mean anything.

WOULD RATHER PAY DUTIES THAN TO LOSE HER VOTE

New York, September 16.—Torn between a desire to avoid paying customs duties on the one hand and a conflicting ambition to vote in this country on the other, Miss Inez Milholland, the Vassar graduate and suffragette, found herself in an uncomfortable predicament last night when she returned to this country on the Mauretania.

At first she set up a claim of non-residence, but rejected it when it occurred to her what effect it might have on her powers as a suffragette worker.

"Here I am a resident of London," she said to an inspector, "and yet I must pay duties to the United States. Don't you think this is rather a shameful thing that a woman should suffer under the laws in which she has no voice?"

And then it occurred to Miss Milholland that perhaps she had committed herself. "Oh!" she interjected, "I should not say that either. I do reside in the United States. I have a country place here."

"Are you paying the duty under protest?" a reporter asked.

"No, no," said Miss Milholland. "I am very willing to pay it. Please don't say anything about this."

She paid $102 customs duties.

A SQUARE-DEAL

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and these are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless—even to the most delicate women and children.

Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or other organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures even the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages—which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof. Cloth-bound sent post-paid on receipt of 31 cents in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

New stores are building everywhere and frequently. Stating the fact in newspapers ceases to be news—so WHY this publicity about Davidson Brothers?

I guess the following paragraphs from the editorial explain:

"Twenty-eight years ago Ben Davidson traveled the streets of Sioux City and the dusty roads of northwest Iowa with a pack on his back! Today, he and his brothers hold forth in a veritable palace of commerce.

"Aladdin's lamp still burns!

"And the wizard oil is a mixture of integrity, nerve, courage, enterprise, brains, resourcefulness, co-operation, loyalty and good fellowship.

"Let no one tell us again that 'business is business' and simply that—that sentiment plays no part in it. Were it not so, commercial and professional Sioux City would not have been at the Davidson store last evening with glad hand and congratulatory voice.

"Hats off to the Davidsons—and hats off to Sioux City for being big enough to rejoice with them!"

The man who wrote the editorial SHOULD BE in the ADVERTISING PROFESSION. He writes LIKE A HUMAN BEING and Advertising is the most human thing in the world.

Now, when men live in a small city for twenty-eight years and practically the whole male population turns out to do them honor, you can BANK ON THEIR BEING STRAIGHT MEN—good neighbors and trustworthy friends.

ALL THE MONEY IN THE WORLD cannot buy such a testimonial or such a demonstration—IT'S THE CHARACTER OF THE MEN that impelled it.

WHAT A LESSON FOR YOUNG MEN!

One's early occupation—one's beginning—no matter what it is, so long as it is honest, never militates against doing big things in the future. On the contrary, IT HELPS, if there is steady application and earnest work.

I noticed the advertisements of the Davidson Brothers in the Sioux City newspapers and they LOOK LIKE AND READ LIKE the honest expressions of honest men.

What's the use of being just smart and not square? IS IT NOT BETTER TO ALWAYS BE ON THE LEVEL?

Shocking Fatality.

(From Puck.)

They picked him up tenderly, and there was a momentarily silence over the crowd as they made way for the bearers of the body.

"What was the cause?" asked a curious person.

"He heard a subway guard say 'Take your time,'" explained the Man on the Spot.

CAMP STONEWALL JACKSON CENSURES CAMP WALKER

Camp Stonewall Jackson, 1581, United Confederate Veterans, at its last meeting passed resolutions censuring Camp W. H. T. Walker 925, for having indorsed Governor Joseph M. Brown's candidacy in the recent gubernatorial race, thereby "introducing politics in its meetings" in violation of the constitution of confederate veteran organizations.

A thorough investigation of the conditions by the state encampment, which meets next month in Columbus, is asked by Camp Stonewall Jackson camp resolution. And in the same resolutions the color sergeant of the Stonewall Jackson camp is expelled from the organization "for having displayed our camp banner in a political parade."

The action of the Stonewall Jackson camp is an aftermath of the recent state campaign during which the Walker camp adopted a resolution indorsing Governor Brown for another term, that action resulting on election day in a personal difficulty at a polling place between Julius H. Cook, adjutant of the Walker camp, and J. B. McFadden, commander of the Stonewall Jackson camp.

The resolutions is full follow:

Whereas, W. H. T. Walker camp, 925, U. C. V., having violated for the second time the constitution and by-laws of the U. C. V. association by introducing politics into its meetings,

Resolved, That we urge our U. C. V. association to investigate into and enforce the law against said camp,

Resolved, After due investigation, we hereby expel our color sergeant from this camp for having displayed our camp banner in a political parade,

Resolved, That we exonerate our commander, J. B. McFadden, from all false accusations brought against him.

SHELBY SMITH IS GIVEN PLACE

this state. It has been held by the legislature itself that a mayor of a city may also be a member of the legislature, but it is generally believed that such a ruling will not apply in this case, as the legislature, being the highest authority in the state, may determine the qualifications of its members, and there is no appeal from that decision.

So that the question of whether or not Mr. Smith may hold the office of county commissioner and at the same time be oil inspector under appointment of the commissioner of agriculture, seems one yet to be decided, should any point be made upon it.

FALLING AIRSHIP STRIKES CROWD

Milwaukee, September 16.—Eight persons, five women and three men, were more or less seriously injured when a Wright aeroplane, driven by Arthur Hoxey, swerved sidelong from its course above the race track and plunged into the crowd on a cement platform before the grandstand at the state fair this afternoon.

The aviator was uninjured and the machine but slightly damaged. A panic followed the accident. None of the injured will die.

MEN AND WOMEN

To the man or woman so unfortunate as to have a chronic disease of any kind whatever, we cannot urge too strongly the gravity of the situation and the great importance of at once consulting an honorable and capable specialist.

We emphasize honorable and capable for the reason that the newspapers contain advertisements of "doctors" posing as experts in the treatment of such disorders, some of whom would never be consulted by the intelligent, cautious patient.

If you desire honest advice and conscientious, thorough treatment, we invite you to call and investigate our record in other cases of this kind.

No matter what your trouble is, be it with your Stomach, Bowels, Liver, Blood, Nerves, or any trouble peculiar to either sex, call or write us, and we will promptly tell you whether or not we can help you.

If you can't come to the office, write for our new books, "Perfect Manhood" and "Perfect Womanhood." They will give you much valuable information. Sent FREE upon request.

doubt that might exist, owing to the different nationalities of the prinicpals, as to the law governing their mutual property rights, the document proceeds to state that "in consideration of the sum of one dollar paid, and said intended marriage," Chanler shall assign to his wife all his real estate, all his interest in the estate of the late Mrs. Laura Delano, subject to a mortgage of about $140,000, "for her sole and separate use absolutely."

For the same consideration of one dollar and the intended marriage, the bridegroom "doth further covenant" to pay his wife $20,000 a year in four quarterly installments, "all payments free from income or other taxes," and "for the purpose of securing the payment of the said yearly sum," La Cavaleiri is constituted "his true and lawful attorney, irrevocable, to collect the rents and profits."

Should the income from the real estate prove insufficient at any time to pay the $20,000 yearly agreed on, a second power of attorney is conferred to govern the income payable from the fund held in trust for him by the New York Life Insurance Trust Company.

Should this additional income still prove insufficient, a third power of attorney is conferred to govern the income from the fund held in trust by the Union Trust Company.

With the exception of these details, the agreement specifies that the property of each of the principals "shall remain the separate property and under the sole control of each of them, and, furthermore, that their statute and capacity generally shall be governed by the laws of the state of New York."

A Significant Move.

If Mrs. Chanler cared to attempt to compel her husband to carry out the terms of his pre-nuptial contract, the filing of the original here today by her lawyers would be her first step in any effort to interpose her rights between him and his creditors, who, it is supposed, will contest the agreement.

The document not only confers the sweeping powers enumerated above, but it lists parcel by parcel all the real estate taken under its control.

The document is dated May 31 and signed and witnessed in the presence of Hanson C. Coxe, deputy consul general of the United States at Paris. It is written in English, on parchment made in London.

Before his marriage to Mme. Cavalieri, Robert Chanler married Miss Julia Chamberlain, from whom he is divorced, and by that marriage there are two children, Dorothy, 6 years, and Julia, 2 years old, now living with their mother.

NEW INDICTMENT FOR SUGAR TRUST

New York, September 16.—Plans for a new action to be brought by the United States government to dissolve the American Sugar Refining Company as a combination in restraint of trade, was the subject of a conference between Attorney General Wickersham and United States District Attorney Henry A. Wise, here today. A complaint has been in course of preparation by Mr. Wise for more than a year and an amended draft of it will be filed, it is understood, within a few days.

PUSHING THE WORK ON DEKALB AVENUE

Commissioner Freeman Is Caring for Work in DeKalb County.

Road Commissioner R. J. Freeman, of DeKalb county, after admitting that DeKalb avenue, the main thoroughfare between Atlanta and Decatur, was as bad a stretch of roadway as there was in the state, stated to a representative of The Constitution on Friday that the part of the avenue in DeKalb county was now being worked on by the convicts and would at an early day be well paved.

The portion of DeKalb avenue in the city limits of Atlanta and in DeKalb county is being paved by the city with macadam, the material having been hauled some time ago. The actual work will begin today.

The paving of the city's part of the avenue was delayed a short while because there was some trouble about the laying of an eight-inch sewer, property owners threatening to enjoin if the sewage was carried into the branches north of the avenue. The sewer committee of council decided to have the sewer laid at once, so the avenue could be paved, and then to let the sewer remain unconnected until an outlet was secured.

For many months, if not years, DeKalb avenue has been one of the worst driveways in the country, and it has been getting steadily worse. Of recent time it became so bad that vehicles could no longer go over it in safety.

But it seems that the trouble is about over, for the DeKalb county road commissioner says he will see that his end of the avenue is paved at once, and the city is looking after its end.

Within two months, it is estimated, DeKalb avenue will be well paved all the way from Atlanta to Decatur.

COX COLLEGE OPENS FOR FALL TERM

The sixty-eighth annual session of Cox College opened under highly favorable auspices. A large number of former students, patrons and other friends of the institution greeted the new arrivals and showed their enjoyment of the interesting exercises of the morning. A short devotional service was conducted by Dr. Mack, pastor of the College Park Presbyterian church, after which Dr. Crenshaw, president of the college, introduced Rev. C. J. Thompson, of Atlanta, and the pastors of the local churches, all of whom made addresses of welcome and encouragement. Miss Tillary, of the department of expression, gave a fine rendition of a southern plantation romance; Miss Grace Lee Brown charmed the audience with a song, and the lovers of music were further delighted with solos of rare artistic merit on the piano, organ and violin, given respectively by Mrs. Crenshaw, the director of music; Miss Bartholomew and Mr. Michael Banner. In response to an encore Mr. Banner gave a second exhibition of his wonderful mastery of the violin.

The first day's enrollment was most encouraging, being larger than last year's, and many students, new and old, are yet to come. The friends of this fine old college for women are happy in the assurance that another year of achievement is to be added to its long and honorable history.

OFFER TO DISPOSE OF DEAD ANIMALS

At a meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon several parties appeared with propositions to dispose of the dead animals in the city so as to relieve the city of this work. It seems that three or four proposed companies wish to take the dead animals, and by disposing of them for the city make money with the products, such as hides, grease and fertilizers.

No action was taken, as the board wished to await a report from a committee which is to visit other cities to ascertain what methods are in use to dispose of dead animals, garbage and night soil.

The board decided to amend the milk ordinance by requiring that all milk brought into the city for sale be under 50 degrees. The law is now that all milk that is sold have that amount of heat.

It was also decided to appoint another meat inspector.

Both of these matters must be approved by the city council next Monday.

Nothing was done in regard to the new crematory, as the board decided to await the report of the inspection committee which is to visit other cities. This committee will leave the city next week.

YOUTH IS ARRESTED FOR FATHER'S DEATH

Chester, Pa., September 16.—John J. Evans, proprietor of the Edgmont hotel, this city, was murdered tonight while asleep in his room. His son, Richard, aged 19 years, was arrested, charged with the crime and is now in the county jail at Media.

Early in the evening Evans went to his room to lie down. As he did not return to the office at his usual hour, William Nickerson, a magistrate in the second ward, went to Evans' room to awaken him. When he opened the door he was horrified to see the pillow covered with blood and a gaping wound behind Evans' left ear.

Suspicion pointed to the son, who had been about the hotel early in the evening, but who had not been seen around the hostelry for nearly two hours. Search was at once made for the boy, and he was found late tonight at Elwynn, a small town about 3 miles from this city. The police officials state that it is their belief that the murder was committed while the lad was temporarily insane.

All the Difference.

Juvenile Clothing

Had we done nothing else to lighten the Dress troubles of Atlanta mothers, this Juvenile Department of ours would entitle us to their thanks.

For long we were mere dabblers—tryos—in this interest of the business. Our stock was a makeshift—paltry, meagre—wholly inadequate to meet the demands made upon it.

It was then that worry wrinkled women's brows when their young daughters' wardrobes pressed for attention.

We realized our deficiencies, even more fully than our harried customers did. But there were solid obstacles—physical limitations—that could be overcome by nothing short of a general upheaval. And the time had not arrived for such a move. However, when the initial plans for reconstructing the store were formally considered, OUR FIRST THOUGHT WAS ABSORBED IN ARRANGING LIGHT AND SPACIOUS QUARTERS TO ACCOMMODATE JUVENILE CLOTHING.

We now point with the rare quality—a pride that is justifiable—to the results of our efforts.

You must come to the department and see what bright wits here and abroad are doing to better and beautify Dress for girls. The variety is comprehensive. Practical things in abundance—things for red-blooded rompers to rollick in. Elegant things, too; filmy, dainty frocks for party wear—and every grade between. An orderly stock. A well-balanced stock. Good taste; good art—AND REAL CHEAPNESS.

Important details: The department is located on the third floor—accessible by two elevators or broken stairways easy to ascend. The merchandise is subdivided as follows:

Infants' Clothes.
Children's Clothes—2 to 6 years.
Girls' Clothes—6 to 14 years.
Junior Clothes—13 to 17 years.

The classification that oftenest causes confusion concerns GIRLS' Clothes and JUNIOR Clothes. Not complicated when once understood. To clarify: Girls' Clothes, 6 to 14 years, are distinct from Junior Clothes, 13 to 17 years. For example: A fourteen-year-old miss, whose figure is formless, without budding marks at bust or hips, will find the model meant for her slenderness among the groups for girls. But the thirteen-year-old miss, whose development prematurely verges on womanly curves, will find her size in the JUNIOR segment.

It is also worth while to remember that petite women can be fitted in the Juniors. Therefore, if you are a diminutive type, please go direct to the Juvenile department, on third floor, instead of the Women's department on the second.

A glance through:

JUNIOR SUITS—boucle cloth is one of the favorite fabrics—bits of silky fuzz curling from the warp yarns. Strikingly effective loom-work. Diagonal mixtures are the choice of many—strong wales in mono-tones accented by straggling fleece in contrasting colors. Natte suiting—an elaboration of the old-time basket weave—has its admirers. The corduroy Suits are being culled. Corduroy—a flattened Bedford simulating velvet—close, compact pile. British thoroughness in every thread. Cheviots, of course; Serges, equally of course. They are standbys. Always desirable; always dependble.

Styles vary. The obble hobby, happily or not, has it some of these Suits. Apron effects, pleated fronts, box-pleated baks with bias bands that give a touch of novelty. The Suits with plain coats and skirts, finished at front and back with box-pleated panels, are admirable. Prices begin at $15.00; stop at $35.00.

JUNIOR DRESSE too—wool; wash goods—for all occasions. But the peeresses of the ock are the exquisite Party Gown made of crepe de chine, chiffon or fine nets, adorned with laces and ribbons—$20.00 to $30.00.

"SHOE-TOP" SUITS, made of cheviots or serges, some winsomest ones—box coats, pated skirts—$15.00 to $20.00.

GIRLS' CLOTHE—6 to 14 years—include Dresses made of serge, cheviot, brilliante or silk-and-wool mohair. New models. Natty—$4.75 to $7.50.

Pretty and sparkling styles made of percale, madras, hand-embroidered rep, chambray, African and Scotch gingham—long-waisted effects, pleated skirts—$8 to $10.

We can't compass the entire stock in this introductory announcement for the Autumn.

Coats deserve a chapter for themselves. They'll get soon.

And there are Hats—jaunty, dashing, charming shapes in felt or beaver—they are claring for notice. Same true of Sweaters, Leggins, Crocheted Ties, Muslin Underwear, Layettes and the like.

Children's Rubberized Silk Raincoats Values $5.75 to $9.00. Special $5.00

A manufacturer of Women's Raincoats turned his ends and remnants of rubberized silk to account by making them into Coats for children 6 to 14 years. Several grades of fabric—tans, reds, navy, grays—plain and striped. They are finished with fancy collars and cuffs, and the buttons are unusually artistic. Just forty of them. About half are worth $6.00 to $7.50, balance $8.00 to $9.00; choice today at $5.00.

GEORGIAN MARRIES JAMAICA GIRL AFTER ROMANTIC COURTSHIP

New York, September 16.—(Special.) Jamaica, Long Island, is being rapidly depleted of its supply of pretty girls. Two more recently became brides in the south. The first is Mrs. Robert S. Aycock. Before her marriage she was Miss Luella Ackron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ackron, of Jamaica, and her friend, who was married yesterday, was Miss Kathine Colagher. She is now Mrs. Rufus Aycock. Her husband is a cousin of her friend's bridegroom.

When Miss Ackron went to Washington, Ga., to be married to Robert S. Aycock, a wealthy young planter, whom she had met in Brooklyn, she was much admired by her husband's cousin. He asked her if "there are any other pretty maidens just like you in Jamaica." Miss Ackron said there were. She named Miss Kathine Colagher as one. The two were introduced, and the second marriage took place yesterday.

Miss Luella was visiting in Brooklyn last year when she met Robert S. Aycock. It was a case of love at first sight. When the Georgia planter returned to his southern home he proposed to Miss Ackron by mail. She accepted. Aycock was too busy to come north for the marriage, so Miss Ackron went south. The couple were married on January 13.

On her husband's plantation Mrs. Aycock met his cousin, Rufus Aycock. He admired the young northern woman. Then he made inquiries concerning other Jamaica girls. The result, as heretofore stated, was that Mrs. Aycock's friend was introduced to her husband's kinsman, and, after a short courtship, conducted entirely by letter, Miss Colagher wanted to become Mrs. Aycock.

Last Wednesday she started for Washington, Ga., she was married as soon as she got there.

ACTRESS KILLED BY POISON DOSE

Belle Elmore's Body Was Then Cut to Pieces.

Doctor Tells of Deadly Drug Discovered in the Fragments of Body --- Smart Women of London Attend the Trial of Crippen and Girl.

London, September 16.—Dr. William Henry Wilcox, scientific analyst to the home office, who discovered a deadly drug in the body found in the home of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, took the stand when the trial of the doctor and his typist, Ethel Clara Leneve, for the murder of the former's wife, was continued today, and swore unqualifiedly that death was due to poison.

Medicine Very Deadly.

The physician described the nature of the medicine's use and that from a quarter to half a grain would prove fatal. He had found two-sevenths of a grain after a lapse of from four to eight months and judged that more than half a grain had been administered. He found no other cause of death and expressed the opinion that the victim survived the dose an hour or more.

Before Dr. Wilcox was called the crown introduced medical testimony to corroborate that given on Wednesday by Professor Augustus J. Pepper, pathologist of the University of London, who swore that the body had been dismembered by one familiar with the science of anatomy.

The gruesome exhibits and the unpleasant character of the testimony at the last session did not deter the curious from getting into the Bow street police court today and the section apportioned to the public was again crowded.

Fashionable Women in Court.

The spectators included the usual array of fashionably dressed women and these thoughtfully removed their hats that those seated behind them might not miss a move of the trembling girl in the dock or of her companion in duress, whose jaunty air only adds to the morbid interest in the case.

Inspector Walter Dew, of Scotland Yard, then took the stand for a brief period. Solicitor Newton asked him a few questions on behalf of Miss Leneve, with the object of showing that she repeatedly said that she believed whatever Crippen told her.

"She did not mention Crippen to me," the detective replied.

The case was then adjourned until September 21.

BARNES THRUSTS AT ROOSEVELT

And the Colonel Replies to the "Boss."

Barnes Says if Radicalism of Roosevelt Prevails G. O. P. Will Be Ruined --- Roosevelt Says He Is Blessed in His Enemies.

New York, September 16.—There was a sharp exchange today between Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and William Barnes, Jr., republican state committeeman and leader of the so-called old guard. In a published statement Mr. Barnes said:

"No amount of political maneuvering, use of patronage or personal abuse can in the slightest degree obscure the one issue which must be fought out to a finish at Saratoga.

Future of the Party.

"There will be determined the future of the republican party in the state of New York for some years to come. That party must determine, in its platform, whether it will be recognized as a conserving force, or whether it will follow the radical policies of Mr. Roosevelt and lose the strategic position which it has held in the state of New York for many years as the party of sanity and the protector of industry, upon which the world of business and labor must depend.

"If it does not hold to its time-honored and successful principles, but seeks for new gods to worship, its mistake will be taken advantage of by its adversary.

"No radical candidate has ever carried the state of New York. Progress in political life is essential to any party, but the state leadership, which relies for its strength upon inciting the mob can never, even if it tries, stem the tide which it has created.

"The republican party in this state has never faced a crisis so fundamental to its existence such as it must meet at this hour."

Roosevelt to Barnes.

When Mr. Barnes' statement was shown to Colonel Roosevelt, the latter dictated the following comment:

"I am, indeed, blessed in my enemies. I am very genuinely grateful to Mr. Barnes for having unconsciously made the issue so clear between what he is pleased to call Rooseveltism on the one side and on the other side the alliance of the boss with that element of big business which seeks to control politics in connection with business."

Beef Case Witnesses.

Chicago, September 16.—Subpoenas for witnesses who will testify for the government in the beef cases were issued today. It is probable the total number of witnesses to be called will run over 100. The subpoenas are made returnable November 1. It is said that they were sent out at this time in order to keep the more important witnesses within the jurisdiction of the court.

GAUNTLET THROWN DOWN BY BALLINGER

Doesn't Care What Is Said About Him, States the Secretary.

Spokane, Wash., September 16.—"I don't care what anybody says about me so long as I am conscious of doing my duty, not only as a private citizen, but as a public officer. The man who pursues the course that seems to him to meet the obligations of his place in life has no need to fear about the future."

So declared Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, today at the noon luncheon of the chamber of commerce.

"So far as the public service of this country is concerned, every man I know in this administration is laboring first to know the needs of the nation, then to execute these needs within the limits of the law and the constitution. We have not reached the day when the fundamental doctrines of this republic can be forgotten or overlooked."

AGED BANKER ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF $250,000

Ingersoll Has Twice Attempted Suicide Since Institution Closed Its Doors.

Biddeford, Maine, September 16.—Richmond H. Ingersoll, the alleged defrauding treasurer of the York County Savings Bank, which closed its doors August 12, was arrested today, on a charge of embezzlement.

Since the closing of the bank the aged banker has been confined to his house by illness, due in part to two attempts at suicide. Ingersoll could not be taken to prison today because of feebleness, and he was therefore arraigned in his room. He was held in $20,000 bail, which was furnished by his friends. The shortage was placed at $350,000.

National Guard Convention.

Washington, September 16.—The national guard convention, to be held in St. Louis beginning October 3, will be of more than ordinary interest and importance, in the opinion of war department officials, and it is proposed to take up the question of legislation for the national guard and possibly measures will be adopted looking to cooperation of the war department pertaining to the regular army.

Stroudsburg, Pa., September 16.—It was learned today that while W. H. Graham, the United States Express Company messenger, was placing $1,600 on a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western passenger train here for New York on Thursday, a thief took $7,350 in cash from his desk. There is no clew.

All Quiet in Korea.

Seoul, Korea, September 16.—General Akashi, of the Japanese army, stated today that quiet prevailed throughout Korea. He said that the inventors of the stories that disturbances had been frequent and that several Koreans had committed suicide in protest against Japanese domination would soon be compelled to prove their assertions in a court of law.

LOUISVILLE CLUB WOMEN WAGE WAR IN BEHALF OF TINY LITTLE MONK

Louisville, Ky., September 16.—A 5-pound Simian slumbered peacefully in his cage at the state fair grounds today while four prominent local attorneys in the magistrate court of Squire Frank Dacher fought a wordy battle as to whether state fair visitors should be permitted to amuse themselves by throwing balls at the monkey.

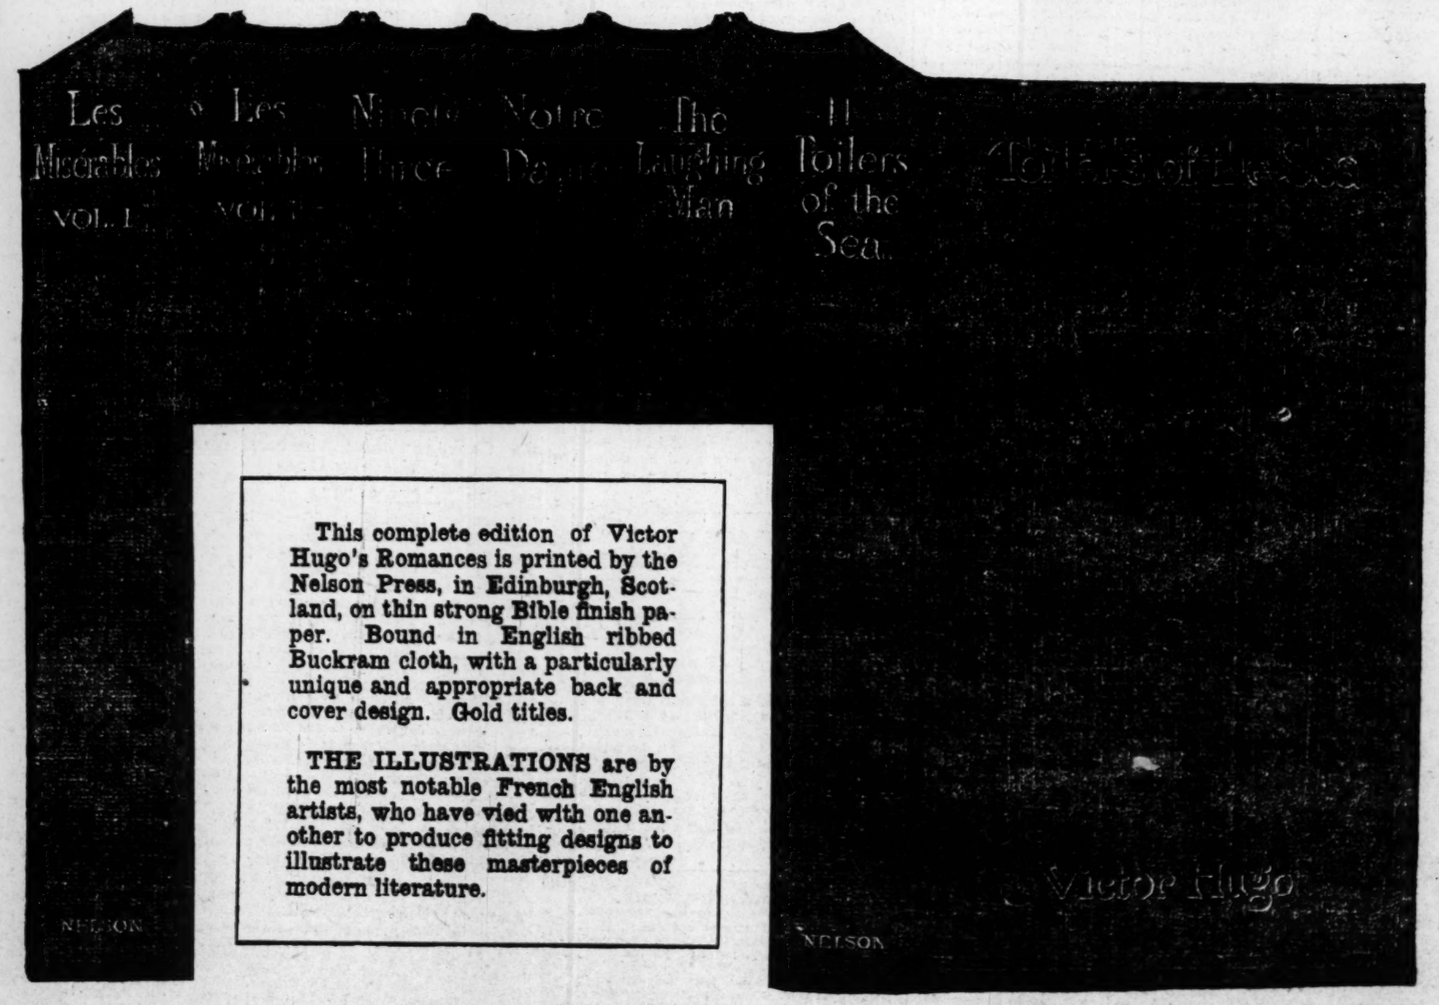

To champion his cause and see that justice was done to Little Jocko half a dozen prominent Louisville club women were present.

After an hour and a half of witnesses' hearing and legal oratory about Darwin, "monkey prostration," "nervous fatigue" and other things that the ordinary layman would believe a monkey was heir to, Magistrate Dacher decided that Sebastian Stone, of Versailles, should pay a fine of $25 for letting the visitors to the fair during the past five days make a target of his monkey with rubber balls.

GIVE ONE DAY TO THE ORPHANS.

Seven southern states will observe next Saturday, September 24, as "Orphans' Day."

The suggestion is that every man, woman and child nearly or remotely interested in this appealing branch of philanthropy give the proceeds of that day's labor, or at least the amount normally spent for enjoyment or for luxuries, toward the maintenance of one of the institutions dedicated to the care of those minus the support of parents or relatives.

In Georgia there are twenty-five orphanages, covering the range of all the denominations and including those that are not allied with any religious organization.

These institutions house in the neighborhood of 3,000 inmates.

From year's end to year's end, it is a perpetual struggle with the officials and trustees of these various homes to make both ends meet, to feed, clothe, house and educate the pathetic flotsam and jetsam that must depend upon the world's charity for an approximate square deal in life.

The several orphans' homes in and around Atlanta require no introduction or commendation to the people of this city.

The men responsible for their direction and management are our best known citizens. Their consecrated toil is a matter of common knowledge among the Atlantans whose routine places them in even occasional contact with their various activities.

Throughout Georgia and the south, the same noble quality of work is being prosecuted, month in and month out, year upon year, with the same watchful vigilance in behalf of these small and helpless youngsters who have aptly been called "wards of the Almighty."

The sacrifice that is asked of our people next Saturday in their behalf represents relatively little to the givers; it represents everything to the receivers.

The humblest citizen of Atlanta, or of Georgia, could afford a slight contribution to this constructive philanthropy without feeling it.

In a manner of speaking, a yielding to the impulse of charity in this direction is the discharging of an obligation—for surely society owes to these little pawns to misfortune or victims of circumstance a chance at that wholesomeness and happiness in life it so zealously provides for its more fortunate sons and daughters.

GEORGIA'S NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY.

A vivid glimpse of the riches that await the awakening of Georgia to the possibilities of her soil is offered in a communication from G. J. McCrary, a former Georgian, now in Seattle, Wash., and published elsewhere in the current issue of The Constitution.

Commenting upon an editorial that appeared recently in this paper drawing attention to the apple possibilities of Georgia, Mr. McCrary writes from the very heart of the apple country of the Pacific coast such inspiring sentiments regarding Georgia's apple assets as should challenge the energy of every commercial body in the state.

Mr. McCrary shows that Washington depends upon apples as Georgia does upon cotton, and then goes on to say that not only north, but as well middle, Georgia, can produce better apples than the nationally famous apple state of Washington.

As Mr. McCrary declares, "Georgia goes the long-drawn-out, hand-worked cotton route almost entirely," while the farmers of Washington get livings and fortunes out of the apple industry.

Fortunately, the indictment of this intelligent Georgian applies each year with less completeness. Georgia farmers begin to rely less upon the "cotton route," and to divide their energies more systematically between that staple and corn. It is equally desirable that they realize the enormous potentialities in the apple industry, as so forcefully stressed by Mr. McCrary.

Cotton, corn and apples represent, moreover, only a portion of the dividend-bearing assets of Georgia's soil. The farms of this state, with its tremendous range of fertility and climate, can bring forth almost every crop in the range of agriculture.

It is to spread this knowledge throughout the nation that the Greater Georgia Association was organized, and that the Landowners' and Homeseekers' Exposition, originated by The Constitution, is to bring landholder and landseeker together in Atlanta during the month of November.

WHEN THE "MAINE" FLOATS.

We are told that within a short time, probably before Christmas, the sunken battleship "Maine" may be raised from its bed at the bottom of Havana harbor, and be sailing homeward under its own steam.

In the mere physical accomplishment of bringing the sunken vessel to the surface there is comparatively small interest. The achievement is simply a matter of engineering details and enough money to finance the undertaking.

It is upon what revelations the reclaimed vessel may disclose that popular concern most largely centers.

The disaster which sent the warship and a large part of its crew to Davy Jones' Locker furnished the crisis that brought war between this country and Spain.

The people of the United States conceived the idea that Spaniards had been instrumental in the attack on the vessel, and they swiftly followed this conclusion with such pressure on President McKinley and congress that war was declared.

Every probability is that sooner or later war would have been declared upon Spain in any event. The course of that nation in Cuba and her preponderance in a sphere so close to this country were the ultimate causes shaping public sentiment. If it had not been brought to the firing point by the sinking of the "Maine," some other causus belli would inevitably have developed.

CONSERVATION OF COMMON SENSE.

One of the indisputable axioms laid down by James J. Hill, empire-builder, in his recent address at St. Paul, was that what we largely need is "conservation of common sense."

For instance, it is a subject for interesting speculation if the gentlemen now so exuberantly shouting for conservation throughout the nation will maintain their zeal at working pitch when congress meets next winter, and the winter following, and thenceforward for several successive sessions.

It is going to take a long time and many a hard-fought battle to win the cause of conservation, regarding that issue in general terms.

It is all very well to allow one's enthusiasm to be whipped into a froth at national and sectional and state conventions. But unless the enthusiasm is transformed into energy, and the energy kept at white heat when the time to do things arrives, we had much better go along quietly about our business and save our lung power and vociferation.

It took years of agitation, within and without both parties, to secure even a shadowy revision of the tariff.

In its way, conservatism is as big and complicated an issue as the tariff. It has as many enemies, and as many lukewarm and indifferent friends.

It is time now to do away with the ornamental and picturesque phases, and address our efforts at education of the practical sort.

That is the only way in which we can make sure that proposals for actual conservation projects will receive the public support necessary for their passage, when support and not talk is required.

Enthusiasm comes easily. It is more important, with so big and permanent an issue as conservation, to be able to STAY enthusiastic after the shouting and the tumult dies.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

A Cordial Invitation.

Wish that Mister 'Possum would come down from the tree,
Be sociable an' friendly, an' go 'long home with me.

Got a chair an' table,
An' a fire burnin' bright,
An' the blessin' of a steady
An' a ready appetite!

I'd warm him at my fire; it's good I'd make him feel;
Have a "hands-'round" with him in the ol' Virginny reel.

Oh, I've got a cosy cabin
An' a fire burnin' bright,
An' the blessin' of a steady
An' a ready appetite!

A Primer of Life.

"Happiness is free for all, and folks ought to dance, if they feel like it, but when they shake the pictures from the wall and the shingles from the roof, it's time to call a halt, and that recalls a story," said the old Philosopher. "Once upon a time when Satan and a sinner were walking along the big road, they met a man with a fiddle, and Old Satan proposed a dance, and he and the sinner went at it. They danced all day, and it looked like the sinner was about to get the best of Satan, when suddenly the ground caught fire, and the dancing sinner was burned alive—long before his time. He danced well, but he didn't know when to quit."

The Village Deacon's Experience.

The "Village Deacon" of the Osborne Farmer has been figuring on the amount of free advice he has given to the world, and he sums up as follows:

"I was surprised to find out that it amounted to over 400 columns of advice alone. That means about 800 feet of simon pure recipes for being saved. If any of that long string of advice has ever been heeded I have failed to find it out. If it has ever made me any money somebody else got it and spent it long ago. If it has made me any friends they have failed to come around and tell me about it and pin medals on my breast. But like all philosophers, I have toiled away in the heat of summer and the blizzards of winter. Like the fellow who works on his perpetual motion invention, I hope some day to grab Success by the tail and have a downhill pull. I know that I have never taken any of my own advice unto myself. I have waited in vain to see how it would work on the other fellow."

NEW MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE

HON. J. N. WATTS.

HON. W. T. PAULK.

HON. J. N. WATTS,
Who will represent Randolph in the next general assembly. Mr. Watts is 40 years old and was born and raised in Randolph county. Mr. Watts' farming interests are very extensive in the county, and he represents the Birmingham Fertilizer Company in this immediate territory as their traveling salesman. He married Miss Belle Henderson, of Beaumont, Texas. Mr. Watts has never before sought a public office, and only after repeated appeals from his friends and supporters did he consent to make the race.

HON. W. T. PAULK.
Representative-elect for Ben Hill county, is a native of south Georgia, and a member of the well-known Paulk family that has for the past quarter of a century represented some part of this section. Mr. Paulk completed his education in Gordon institute, which he left in 1893 to engage in business. He is today a large real estate owner and one of the largest planters in this section, as well as a large manufacturer of naval stores. He has been a member of the Fitzgerald city council, and has been prominent in the public affairs of the city.

GEORGIA BETTER APPLE COUNTRY THAN FAMED WASHINGTON STATE

—G. J. McCrary

Editor Constitution: I buy The Constitution regularly from the man with papers from "home," and in your issue of August 24, I notice your editorial "A Lesson in Apple Advertising."

I was reared on the line of Talbot and Marion counties, Ga., in the piney woods and I know there grew at my home better apples than are produced here, and the apples of north Georgia are undoubtedly superior.

This state depends upon apples as Georgia does on cotton; and the only advantage I can note, after a residence of two years and visits to all parts of Washington, is the advantage of color. The Yakima and Wenatchee Valley apples here are a beautiful dark red color, differing from the Arkansas Red or any other apple I have ever seen. Georgia is ahead in flavor and varieties that will stand shipping and keeping qualities are bred for here.

It's queer how apples and small fruits make livings and fortunes for thousands here and Georgia goes the long-drawn-out, hard-worked cotton route, almost entirely. The Pacific coast has climate and thrift; the inhabitants are, all or very nearly so, white people, and Seattle is the northwestern hub. All Alaskan trade, centered in Seattle, makes it a busy and growing city. We have had a delightful summer.

PARR PLAYED 'POSSUM AND FOOLED THE COPS

When a fellow can "play 'possum" on the police and get away, he has to be some class as a bluff. Yet there was one fellow who did it, and his name is Robert Parr, a white man who is now at large with any number of cops looking for him.

A policeman hates to see a prisoner give him the "ha, ha," and that's what Bob Parr did.

Parr was arrested last Thursday for being disorderly on the street. He knew that there was an old case against him, and a charge of contempt of court, and he further knew that Recorder Broyles hits a fellow hard for contempt. The police did not know all this at the time Parr was arrested.

When Parr found himself behind the bars with three cases against him he got sick. It was really enough to make a man sure enough sick, but Parr was playing 'possum. He took on so bad that the turnkey, the station sergeant and the call men all thought unless Parr was rushed to the hospital he would die in a cell. So Parr was rushed, and he managed to fool the hospital doctors. They placed him on a bed and gave him physic. Late in the night, or maybe early the next morning, Parr slipped out of the hospital and escaped.

When the case was called in the public court Friday morning the police officers told how they had been tricked. There was nothing to do but issue an order for the rearrest of the 'possum-playing Parr.

"And when you get him again," stated the recorder, "just keep him in a cell, no matter how sick he seems to be."

As to "Usurpation of Power."

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

We print in another column an editorial from The Griffin News under the heading, "Usurpation of Power."

It will be seen that our Griffin contemporary does not like the district-wide rule for future primaries in the sixth congressional district, and that it desires to maintain the county unit system method which the Indian Springs convention abrogated.

The Telegraph was one of those newspapers in the state which added its influence to the successful movement in 1908 for a return to the old and time-honored county unit plan of state primaries. In the state primary this year it stood by that good old democratic doctrine and went down in defeat with the defenders of the faith. Bibb county gave approximately 1,000 majority as a pledge to that doctrine. On the other hand, Monroe, Pike and Spalding gave decided majorities against that doctrine. Speaking of "steam-rollers" and "usurpation of of power," the three counties just named, and now complaining, were in at the killing with both hands and loud acclaim when the state convention met in Atlanta, adopted a rule to prevent amendment to or discussion of the report of the platform committee (the contrary of which was permitted at Indian Springs) and which steam-rolled this declaration through like greased lightning:

By Direct Vote.

"We urge the importance of selecting by direct vote of the people the nominees for public office and we condemn all methods which make it possible for such selections to be made by a convention vote, instead of by vote of the people."

Of course the county unit system necessarily involves "a convention vote." This being true, then follows the necessity for uniformity. If the state is going to readopt the state-wide primary (and they will do it if the mandate of the platform is obeyed), then the congressional and senatorial districts and the judicial circuits ought to conform to the general system for the sake of uniformity—that's all. And that is the view taken by the Bibb delegates to the Indian Springs convention—at least that portion of it that stood for the county unit plan in the state primary.

The small counties in Georgia had the opportunity to nail the movement to shear them of their political power, but they seized it not. A majority of them drove the nails in their own political coffins. Under the new order of things, Fulton, Bibb, Richmond, Chatham and Muscogee can unite and pile up majorities which will lap over the majorities of a hundred small counties, such majorities as were given in the recent election, and which are usually given.

The Telegraph does not regret the fight it made for the county unit plan, but it does regret that Monroe, Pike and Spalding did not help when the issue was really fought out. The Indian Springs action was simply the logical sequence of the Atlanta convention procedure, and it comes home to the counties named—not to Bibb.

Congress on Tuberculosis.

Washington, September 16.—Official announcement that the seventh international conference on tuberculosis will be held in Rome, Italy, September 24 to 30, 1911, was made today from the headquarters of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. The congress, which meets every three years, was last held in Washington in 1908.

WOMAN ENGINEERS AN AERO SMASH-UP

Mrs. Raische the First of Her Sex to Be in Such an Accident.

Mineola, L. I., September 16.—Mrs. Raische, wife of the head of an aeroplane company, had the distinction today to figure in the first aeroplane smash-up engineered by a woman at the aviation grounds here, and possibly in the country.

Mrs. Raische came out on the field this morning for an initial trial, which with beginners consists of what is known as "grass cutting," or skimming the field. She had gone perhaps a mile when suddenly she ran into a depression and came to grief.

The nose of the machine was jammed into the ground. Mrs. Raische was thrown out, the machine falling on top of her. She scrambled out from under the wreck and ran, limping somewhat, to shut off her motor, which was still running at full speed. The machine was damaged.

GOLD PRODUCTION OF KLONDIKE PLACERS

Since 1898 Has Amounted to One Hundred and Fifty Million Dollars.

Washington, September 16.—The Klondike placer mining district in Alaska has produced $150,000,000 in gold since 1898, and mining experts estimate the amount yet to be mined will equal that already produced.

Consul Cole, of Dawson, states that the gold output for 1910 will exceed that of 1909, when more than three and a half billions was produced. Most of this gold, he states, was shipped to the United States. A small quantity went to the new Canadian mint. The consul at Dawson reports that rich deposits of copper ore have been discovered in the southern part of the Klondike district.

WOMAN AT AGE OF 80 ENTERS UNIVERSITY

Mrs. Winship Says That She Wants More Knowledge.

Columbus, Ohio, September 16.—Mrs. A. D. Winship, aged 80 years, and a former resident of Racine, Wis., but now of Columbus, registered today as a student in Ohio State university. Mrs. Winship will take an optional course and says that she is going to college simply because she likes to acquire all the knowledge that she can. She has recently returned from Michigan, where she has been attending a summer school.

Alabama Cotton Crop.

Montgomery, Ala., September 16.—Commissioner of Agriculture J. A. Wilkinson is not cheerful about the Alabama cotton crop. In fact, he states it is hardly 70 per cent of normal. On the uplands it has stopped making, having turned yellow and lost vitality. Lowlands, where the fertilization was kept up, growth is still going on, but even here it is backward and unenthusiastic in development. Many fields are open entirely.

STREET RAILWAY BLED FOR CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Interesting Testimony by H. H. Vreeland in the Merritt Investigation.

New York, September 16.—The admission that every corporation with which he had ever been identified had not only contributed to political campaign funds, but had contributed to the campaign fund of "everybody that ever ran for office," was made on the stand today, by H. H. Vreeland, former president of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, who was the star witness at today's session of the Merritt investigation committee.

Mr. Vreeland could only be made to specify amounts for the year 1903. During that year the corporation, of which he had then been president, the Metropolitan Securities Company, had contributed $20,000 to $25,000 to the Republican state committee, and $17,000 to $18,000 to the Democratic state committee.

The company may also have made campaign contributions locally, but the witness could not be positive on that point.

Adjournment was taken until next Wednesday.

DIVES BETWEEN SHIPS TO RESCUE SHIPMATE

Cool Courage and Strong Nerves Exhibited by Gunner on the Iowa.

Washington, September 16.—Cool courage and strong nerves were exhibited by Emil Falk, a gunner's mate, on the battleship Iowa, September 1, when he plunged overboard between the steel hull of the battlship and a lighter alongside, from which she was coaling, at Annapolis, Md., in the effort to save the life of a shipmate, James E. Stanley.

Stanley, falling from the forecastle of the ship, was stunned by striking the lighter and, slipping between the two vesels, was drowned. Falk dived several times to see if the body could have come up under the lighter. This act, acting Secretary Nicholson declared, was fraught with the greatest danger, due not only to the probability of being crushed between the hulls, but also to the probability of drowning by being caught underneath the lighter.

Admiral Berry Retired.

Washington, September 16.—Rear Admiral G. Berry, on duty at the Washington navy yard as a member of the naval examining and retiring boards, and Chaplain David H. Tricou, on duty at the naval home, Philadelphia, were placed on the retired list today on account of age. Admiral Berry is from Tennessee, and he entered the navy in July, 1865.

NO FURTHER ACTION ON COTTON BILLS

Meeting of European Bankers Has Not Yet Been Called.

London, September 16.—No meeting of the committee of European bankers has been called as yet to consider the refusal of the American bankers to guarantee the bills of lading on American cotton shipments. It may be some days before further action is taken, as several members of the committe are out of town.

In the meantime the situation is the subject of considerable interest to cotton and banking circles. The general opinion appears to be that the matter will right itself. The head of one of the three firms which opposed the action of the conference on Wednesday, explained today that while he refused to sign the resolution, he would not do anything to prevent the committee securing the guarantee desired.

"If a settlement is not reached before October 31, it will be necessary to convene another meeting at which it is probable a suggestion will be made that will meet the views of both sides. Sir E. H. Holden, who has been most active in the recent movement, may take up the matter when he goes to New York on his usual business visit next month.

INDIANA G. O. P. SEES HANDWRITING ON WALL

As Result Republican Platform Will Be Along Progressive Lines.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 16.—That the republican campaign in Indiana this year will be along straight-out progressive lines, was the statement of Chairman Lee, after a meeting of the republican state central committee here today. He said, however, that it would not be of the rampant, sizzling, insurgent type.

"Returns from recent elections held," said Chairman Lee, "show that the republican party is progressive, and up-to-date.

"In Maine, for instance, the leaders refused to let the party be progressive; they compelled the party to stand still, and at the election this week the people put the republican party in the discard. The campaign in Indiana this fall will be along progressive lines."

Workmen Flooded by Beer.

Fort Wayne, Ind., September 16.—A vat at a brewery here collapsed while workmen were repairing its foundation yesterday. The vat contained 18,000 gallons of beer, which poured through the streets. The workmen were caught in the rush and were rescued with difficulty from drowning. The beer found an outlet in the sewer which showed a head of over three feet when it discharged the "suds" into the Maumee river.

Petition in Bankruptcy.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with the clerk of the federal court yesterday by Harry E. Reynolds, of Atlanta. The petition states in his papers of file that he is a supply clerk and writes his liabilities at $777.50 and no assets.

Exchange Pulpits Sunday.—Dr. Walter L. Lingle and Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden will exchange pulpits for the 11 o'clock service on Sunday, Dr. Lingle preaching at the Central Presbyterian church and Dr. Ogden at the First. Each will occupy his own pulpit in the evening.

Statement for Frost.—Marion Smith, attorney for J. B. Frost, yesterday made a statement in behalf of his client. He said he had been in communication with Mr. Frost with reference to the indictments against him in Lawrenceville, and that Mr. Frost would insist on an early trial, returning to Atlanta at once.

Dr. Connally Hit by Car.—Dr. E. L. Connally, of West End, brother-in-law of Governor Brown, was knocked down and bruised Wednesday night by a trolley car at the corner of Forsyth and Mitchell streets. It was at first feared he had been badly injured, but he allayed all fears by getting up and continuing on his way to the Second Baptist church.

Moonshiner Given Pardon.—President Taft has just given a pardon to J. R. Denny, a moonshiner, serving a six months' sentence in the Fulton county jail, in order that he may go home to his family, which is reported in destitute circumstances. An attorney who interested himself in the case, wrote to President Taft, and the pardon followed.

Tent Meeting.—A very interesting meeting has been going on at the Baptist tent, Sells avenue and Holderness street, all this week and will continue next week. Services Sunday the 18th, preaching by H. D. White at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. C. W. Rowe will conduct services all next week. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. J. F. Percy, pastor of, West End church, will preach this Friday.

New Preacher Arrives.—Rev. S. W. Reid, recently called to the pastorate of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church in Atlanta, has arrived and will preach his first sermon to that congregation tomorrow. WOODROW WILSON TO QUIT PRINCETON

Will Offer Resignation Following Gubernatorial Nomination.

Princeton, N. J., September 16.—Dr. Woodrow Wilson, who was yesterday nominated for governor of New Jersey by the democratic state convention, said this afternoon that he would offer his resignation as president of Princeton university to the board of trustees at its next meeting on October 20.

It is understood that Dr. Wilson will not urge the trustees to accept his resignation immediately.

Telegrams have been pouring in on the democratic nominee by the score since last night.

One of the telegrams received was from Norman E. Mack, national democratic chairman. Others came from the south, President Wilson's old home, and one from Europe.

Regarding the campaign, Dr. Wilson said that he does not expect to make a great many speeches. "The field to be covered," he said, "is not very large, unless I should go into the tariff, but I believe that national issues, like the tariff, will not be injected into the campaign. When running for governor of New Jersey, one should run for governor."

PROF. DELOACH SPEAKS AT COTTON MEETING

Reads Paper at Session of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

Portsmouth, N. H., September 16.—Technical papers relating to the textile industry were read at the forenoon session of the semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers here. The merits of California as a cotton-growing state were set forth by Joseph R. Loftus, of Imperial Valley, Cal., who quoted figures to show that in California cotton could be raised as cheaply as in the south, with the exception of an increase in the cost of picking.

Professor R. J. H. DeLoach, of Athens, Ga., spoke on "The Nature and Cause of Waste Fibre in Cotton Mills."

MONEY FORGOTTEN BY RICHARD CROKER

Nearly One Thousand Dollars Which He Knows Nothing Of.

New York, September 16.—Richard Croker, the former Tammany leader, who long since changed his place of residence from New York to Wantage, England, left behind him in America a small matter of $899.96, which he appears to have forgotten all about. His name is included in a list of fifty depositors of a Union Square bank who have so much money or such poor memories that they have left their cash lying unclaimed in the vaults since 1890 and have put the bank to the trouble of advertising their names under the requirement of the state banking law. The amount to the credit of Mr. Croker is the largest in the list. The chances are, however, that this money will soon be reposing with the rest of Mr. Croker's cash, for soon after the advertisement appeared one of the sons of the former Tammany chieftain notified the bank that he would at once arrange with his father to make claim for the money.

OVER 100,000 VICTIMS CLAIMED BY CHOLERA

The Scourge Is Now Stretching Into Asiatic Russia.

St. Petersburg, September 16.—The cholera epidemic, which originated in southern Russia, has claimed already upward of 100,000 victims, is stretching its way across Asiatic Russia and today was officially declared to be in the province of Amur, in southeast Siberia and separated by the Amur river from Manchuria.

The reports now in possession of the sanitary bureau show a total for the season of 182,327 cases with 83,613 deaths. These include the early returns for the week ending September 10 and the revised figures for the preceding week. The statistics show a steady decrease in the number of cases and fatalities.

C. O. P. REGULARS HOLD ILLINOIS

Insurgents Victorious in Only Three Districts.

Nearly All of the Democrats Who Voted for Lorimer for Senator Renominated—Boutell, the Beaten Stand-Patter, to Run as Independent.

Chicago, September 16.—Insurgents were victorious in three out of twenty-five congressional districts of Illinois in the primary election yesterday.

Henry S. Boutell, stand-patter republican, who has represented the ninth, a Chicago district, in congress for twelve years, was defeated by Frederick H. Gansbergen, who conducted his campaign on an out-and-out insurgent plan. Gansbergen was supported by the regular republican organization.

In the eleventh district Colonel Ira C. Copley, the first man in Illinois to come out as an insurgent candidate, won the republican nomination over George W. Conn, who classed himself as a progressive conservative. This seat now is occupied by Howard M. Snapp, a stand-patter.

John C. McKenzie secured the republican nomination in the thirteenth district after a spirited contest with Reuben R. Tiffany.

Foss Pulled Through.

George Edmund Foss, stand-patter and head of the naval affairs committee of the house, won the republican nomination in the tenth district.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon was renominated in the eighth district by a majority close to 6,000. He was opposed by Henry B. Downs, an insurgent of his own city.

Lee O'Neil Browne, the minority leader in the lower house of the Illinois legislature, who was recently acquitted of a charge of bribery in connection with the election of United States Senator William Lorimer, was renominated for representative in La Salle county by a large majority.

Out of thirty-two democrats in the last legislature who voted for William Lorimer for senator, twenty-two were renominated yesterday.

Boutell to Run as Independent.

Congressman Henry Sherman Boutell, who was defeated by nearly 1,000 votes in yesterday's primaries, stated today that he will run independently. Tomorrow Mr. Boutell will leave here for Washington and, it is believed, for Beverly.

"I will run independently, and beat my rivals on the simple principles of responsible representative," said Mr. Boutell. "I place no reliance, in direct primaries. In my district less than one-third of the republican voters went to the polls. Pure democracy always has been a failure. The initiative and referendum, direct vote for senators—these are vagaries. The idea of 100,000,000 people trying to legislate direct on subjects that individually they do not understand is not practicable."

WILL TRY TO ELIMINATE 2,000 SURFACE CLOSETS

Sewer Committee Will Introduce Ordinance at Council Meeting.

The sewer committee of council will, at the next meeting of council, introduce an ordinance requiring all property owners, within a radius of one and a half miles from the center of the city, to make sewer connections. It is estimated that there are 2,000 surface closets within this district, and the ordinance, if passed, will eliminate them.

In the numerous alleys near the center of the city and in the yards in the rear of many nice homes are negro houses, where there are surface closets. The sewer committee, at its meeting Friday morning, decided to take immediate steps to abate this nuisance.

The committee also decided to push forward with all possible rapidity the work of laying new sewers.

DEMOCRATS OF UTAH DEMAND PROHIBITION

Platform Also Calls for the Initiative and Referendum.

Provo, Utah, September 16.—The democratic state platform adopted at the state convention here last night demands a prohibition law, direct primary elections, the election of United States senators by popular vote, the initiative and referendum and recall and a tariff commission. The conservation plant advocates cooperation by the state and national governments and the widest use of public lands for settlement and mining.

HEAVY CRIMINAL DOCKET IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

The criminal branch of the superior court will open Monday with an unusually heavy docket. Judge Price Gilbert, of Columbus, Ga., judge of the Chattahoochee circuit, will preside instead of Judge L. S. Roan, who will be occupied with his work on the Stone Mountain circuit.

The docket shows 112 cases, 85 of which are jail cases.

Thomas E. Phillips has filed suit for divorce against Annie I. Phillips, charging that she quarreled and nagged at him all the time, even until far into the night.

He says that he realizes that it is his duty to provide for his wife's future, and that he has made arrangements to that end.

Byrnes Declared Nominee.

Aiken, S. C., September 16.—The Aiken county democratic executive committee met here today and threw out the protest of Congressman J. O. Patterson, who had contested the nomination of James F. Byrnes, and declared Mr. Byrnes the nominee. The executive committee at Hampton, also, threw out Mr. Patterson's protest.

MARKET PRICES CLIMBING WITH THE COMING OF FALL

Muscadines that erstwhile purpled in the sun at the top of high grapevines have been brought to more lowly estate by mercenary youngsters who had rather hear the money jingle in their pockets than contemplate the beauty of the grape at high altitudes. So as you go by the produce markets you are more than apt to find some plain old market baskets adorned with the purple woodland grapes that are so dark they seem almost black. For 5 cents you can buy only one glassful—just about a pint. They are scarce as yet, and as they are prime favorites with many people, the supply is rapidly diminished as soon as placed on the markets.

And prices generally have caught on to the upward tendency of the muscadine vine, it seems, for as first nips of coolness give sharp reminder of the nearness of winter everything begins to adopt an Excelsior motto.

Even snapbeans and butterbeans that all during the summer have maintained the unvarying price of 5 cents per quart, have jumped to 10 cents a quart; eggs are high, selling at 30 cents a dozen; chickens, fruits and vegetables all tend upward in their costs.

That is, all except cauliflower. This is cauliflower season says the market man, and as they become more plentiful the bunchy, knobby-looking things begin to sell for 15 cents instead of 20 cents a pound.

Bermuda onions, too, remain content to sell at 5 cents each, and plain onions at 10 cents a quart, tomatoes are 10 cents a quart, eggplant 5 and 10 cents apiece, green corn 25 cents a dozen ears, hot peppers 10 cents a quart, cabbage 3 cents a pound, Irish potatoes 30 cents a peck and sweet potatoes 40 cents a peck. Turnip salad, new on the markets this week, cost 5 cents a peck, and field peas sell for 25 cents a peck.

Late radishes have come on the market, and they sell for 5 cents a bunch; celery costs 10 cents a stalk, and lettuce sells for 10 cents a head.

Fruits are steadily getting higher in price. There are a few late Georgia apples to be had for 50 cents a peck. Lemons are 30 cents a dozen, pomegranates, new this week on the market, cost 5 cents apiece; Tokay grapes 15 cents a pound, Malaga grapes 10 cents, purple California grapes 10 cents a pound, western apples 40 cents a dozen, bananas 15 cents a dozen, pineapples, which have been selling for 5 and 10 cents, now cost 15 and 20 cents apiece.

In the fish markets the usual diversity of water foods may be secured. Black bass, which are due in the markets now, are very scarce at present, however, for no assignable reason. Perch and redsnapper sell for 12½ cents a pound; mango snapper, trout, blue fish and Norfolk spots cost 15 cents a pound; crab meat and scallops 50 cents a quart.

Ricebirds retail at $1.50 a dozen, pompano 20 cents a pound, Spanish mackerel 20 cents a pound, shrimp 25 cents a quart.

Stew oysters cost 30 cents a quart and select oysters 40 cents.

After next week the season for soft-shell crabs will be about over, but the markets have hard-shell crabs at 5 cents apiece.

CLEAN SWEEP IN ONE CLASS MADE BY ATLANTA HORSES

The spirited contests in the horse show ring at the Knoxville Exposition have attracted a great deal of attention throughout the south during the past week, but nowhere has there been a keener interest in the events than here in Atlanta. This is on account of the fact that half a dozen or more Atlanta horses were entered in the show.

One of the most interesting events in which the Atlanta entries participated was in the class for ladies' driving horses shown on Thursday night. In this class three Atlanta horses won the three prizes, although eleven superb animals were entered for the contest.

The Knoxville Journal and Tribune of Friday morning gives the following account of the contest:

"While local entries did not win any of the ribbons in this class, the interest of Knoxvillians in the event was greatly heightened by the appearance in the ring as drivers of a number of the best known society women. A clean sweep of the honors in this class was made by Atlanta horses, all three of the ribbons going to horses owned in the Georgia metropolis, but which have been shown all over the United States.

"Beautiful traps that would have graced any show or assemblage served to enhance the beauty of the picture presented, as the eleven turnouts drawn by the splendid equines whirled rapidly around the ring under the glare of the white lights, winning the most enthusiastic applause from nearly three thousand persons, who from their places of vantage, enjoyed the sight to the utmost.

"The competition was very brisk in this class, and considerable time was required by the judge, Mr. Henry Cullins, of Lexington, Ky., to arrive at his decision. At last, however, the blue ribbon was tied upon the bridle of McAltara, a beautiful chestnut driven by Miss Mary Algood Jones, of Atlanta, and owned by Mr. John K. Ottley, of the same city. The decision was a popular one, although in the midst of so many that were really entitled to a blue ribbon, or so it seemed, there were differences of opinions among the spectators as to which was in reality entitled to the first honors.

"In addition to the prize offered by the horse show management, the winner of first honors in this class was presented with a beautiful silver cup offered by Hope Brothers, of this city, and a magnificent bouquet of roses. These were presented to Miss Jones, who was accompanied in the carriage by Mr. Ottley, by Mr. John W. Sneed, a member of the ring committee of the show.

"Second honors were won by Princess Patricia, driven by Miss Charles Owens, of Atlanta, and owned by Mr. D. N. McCullough, who accompanied Miss Owens. The winner of second place in the class was a spirited chestnut, as was Glenmark, driven by Miss Thrasher, of this city, to which the yellow ribbon of third place was attached. Glenmark is the property of J. P. Oglesby, of Atlanta."

"CURIOSITY SHOP" CLOSED; CAPT. BURKE NOW RICH MAN

Atlanta's "Old Curiosity Shop" is closed, and Captain W. B. Burke, the presiding genius of the queer little shops where he stacked his books, displayed his unique signs, and invited passers-by to "empty their purses into their brains," has given up his sidewalk book stores to take possession of a large estate on Indida Beach, Sarisota, Fla.

The captain, who is known to almost every Atlanta, as "Burke, the Old Book Man," and who quaintly styled himself the "dean of the book business in Atlanta," at the ripe old age of three score and ten finds himself the sole owner of a handsome estate of 190 acres through the generosity of his brother, a wealthy attorney of Charleston; and after years and years of earnest toil which secured for him but a moderately easy living he is roaming at will the new territory which he finds his own; carrying off the honors for the heaviest catch on fishing expeditions, and generally enjoying his new possessions.

He lived in Atlanta for forty years; and his good fortune has occasioned gladness to many who knew and liked the "old book man." Prior to the burning of the old Kimball, Captain Burke owned a large and valuable book store in which he had many volumes of great worth, some being appraised at $1,000 and more.

In that fire he lost everything he had, and subsequently changed to varying stands. Usually they were mere little cubby-holes fronting on the sidewalk; but his diligence and the uniqueness of his signs attracted many purchasers. Sometimes his signs were editorials in miniature; sometimes they were aphorisms worthy of Poor Richard's almanac; and frequently they were designed to lure the pennies and dimes. For instance, playing to the melodramatic instinct latent in the human heart, he hangs out this succint description of his wares, "Blood and Thunder Novels, 2 for 5 cents." Then in the interest of education, "No Excuse for Ignorance; Burke Still Lives."

These and many other signs created amused interest not only of his friends, but of passing strangers.

But now the old book store is no more. Gone are the battered volumes from the cubby-hole on Peachtree, just opposite the Grand; and instead of the "Old Book Man's" signs, a shoemaker volunteers to mend old shoes.

But on Indida Beach a confederate veteran, "the dean of the book business in Atlanta," is enjoying the rest and peace of possession of his own roof-tree.

Some of his friends predict, however, that he is too much of a bibliophile to relinquish his beloved books; and expect to hear soon that he has established the finest old book store in Florida.

MRS. R. C. LEYDEN ILL; ATTACKED BY APOPLEXY

For Years She Has Been One of Atlanta's Best Known Women.

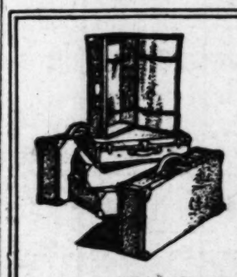

Mrs. R. C. Leyden, widow of Major Leyden, one of the most daring artillerists in the confederate army during the war between the states, is seriously ill in her apartments at the Peachtree Inn, the result of a stroke of appplexy. Mrs. Leyden is 82 years of age and for years was one of Atlanta's most widely known and popular matrons.

Major Leyden went to the front with the Gate City Guard and fought with the infantry until President Davis commissioned him to raise a battery. His artillery organization was one of the best in the south.

While Major Leyden was serving at the front Mrs. Leyden was in camp among the sick and wounded. She prepared lint and dressed wounds for the injured and gave medicine and attention to the sick in hospitals.

Mrs. Leyden has one daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Hayne, of Jacksonville. She is an aunt of Mrs. E. B. Eastman and Edgar A. Angier, Clarence Angier and Wilmer Angier, of Atlanta, and Alton Angier, of Washington, and Hugh Angier, of New York.

The old Leyden home still stands on Peachtree street next to the governor's mansion, and it was there Sherman had his headquarters when he came into Atlanta.

PARTY OF AUSTRIANS SETTLE NEAR CORDELE

Have Secured Timber Rights on Flint River and Will Manufacture Staves.

Cordele, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—W. L. Reide, an Austrian, arrived in Cordele this morning with about twenty others of his nationality, constituting a portion of a party of about one hundred that have planned a colony at Hugenin, on the Seaboard Air Line railway, about 9 miles west of Cordele, to engage in the stave manufacturing business on a large scale.

They have already secured the timber rights to several thousand acres of land on either side of Flint river, including most of what is known as the old Hugenin farm, which consists altogether of about 11,000 acres. Reide says that within a radius of 20 miles up and down the Flint river there is a great quantity of most valuable whiteoak that can be manufactured into staves for export that will bring to the owners many thousands of dollars and will give employment to the Austrians for several years.

Sues Macon Grocer.

COTTON CONGRESS MEETS SEPT. 27-28

Cordele, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—What promises to be one of the largest conventions ever held in this section is the cotton congress which will be held here on September 27-28. It is expected that growers, buyers, factors, merchants and bankers from all parts of Georgia, Florida and Alabama will be in attendance,. Prominent speakers have been invited, and will make addresses.

W. W. Webb, president of the Union Consolidated Warehouse Company, has issued a call for every union to have a delegate present. In his statement, he says:

"We hope to have such unity of action as will unite our great people of the different classes, and their combined influences that will produce such power as can always force a profitable price for our products, which will be a blessing to the farmers and a financial salvation to all classes of people in our great agricultural country."

SEVENTH DISTRICT TO NOMINATE LEE

Floyd County Will Send Big Delegation to Convention on Saturday.

Rome, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—A big delegation from Floyd county will attend the Seventh district convention on Saturday at Chickamauga. At the request of Hon. Gordon Lee, Chairman Barry Wright, of the Floyd executive committee, appointed 148 delegates to the convention, and has notified Chairman Bradford, of the district committee, of the selections. Big delegations from all the other counties are going.

The business of the day will be to name Mr. Lee formally as the democratic candidate, and to have a genuine democratic rally.

TIFT COUNTY TO ERECT HANDSOME COURTHOUSE

County Commissioners Levy a Direct Tax for That Purpose.

Tifton, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) Tift county is to have a $54,000 courthouse, which will be built this fall, and the money to pay for it will be raised by direct taxation.

Twice under an ordinary and once under the board of county commissioners the people have been given an opportunity to vote a bond issue for this purpose, but each time the constitutional requirement of two-thirds the total registered vote was not polled.

The commissioners have despaired of securing a bond issue, and the need of the county for a courthouse was so urgent that they decided to levy a direct tax for that purpose.

QUARREL OVER MAIL LEADS TO SHOOTING

Louen V. Atkins, of Chicago, Shot by His Former Partner.

Chicago, September 16.—Louen V. Atkins, a patent medicine manufacturer, was shot and fatally wounded in his office in the Marine building here today by Dr. James M. Rainey.

Rainey withdrew from the company, of which Atkins was president, two months ago, and started another firm with much the same name. According to Joseph Ingram, attorney for Rainey, mail claimed by the latter was frequently delivered to Atkins. The men quarreled about this, it is said.

Atkins died within an hour after he had been taken to the hospital.

READY TO WORK ON THE OCMULGEE

Dredging Will Be Started Soon.

Engineer Conant Notifies Macon Business Man That Government Appropriation Can Now Be Used on River.

Macon, Ga., September 6.—(Special.) C. B. Conant, engineer in charge of river and harbor improvement in Savannah, has notified A. B. Chappell, president of the Macon and Brunswick Navigation Company, in Macon, that the government appropriation of $90,000 is ready for use in developing the Ocmulgee river for navigation. Mr. Chappell, in an address before enthusiastic business men at the chamber of commerce last night, notified them of this step, and also announced that there is an inclination on the part of the business men who have been backing the local river traffic to put up sufficient capital safely to start transportation on the Ocmulgee.

It will be only a few days now, Mr. Chappell stated, before the government will start the construction of a dredging vessel here, which will be used in removing debris from the channel of the river. The Emmett Small, the vessel that was foundered 12 miles below Macon several months ago, is now undergoing reconstruction in Brunswick, and the local owners are engaged in quietly working for a financial backing that will enable them to place shipping facilities to meet the demands.

The promoters stated last night that the two steamers now operating have paid expenses, and with a proper support the river shipping can be very greatly enlarged. The fall will mark the rapid advancement of this traffic advantage for Macon. The chamber of commerce will have special workers on this enterprise from now on, and much will be done to be ready for the use of the river on a large scale while the government is making the improvements with the money now ready for use.

Norcross School Opens.

Norcross, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The public school opened for the fall term last Monday. There is an unusually large enrollment and bright prospects for a successful year are evident. Professor Albert Bell and his able corps of assistants have made many changes and a number of improvements are being considered.

FORMAL OPENING AT WESLEYAN

Macon, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) The formal exercises for the opening of the session at Wesleyan college occurred at the chapel this morning at 10 o'clock. President W. N. Ainsworth, Rev. Paul Ellis and others, friends of the college, made brief talks and extended a welcome to the large number of young lady students. The mayor and council, the members of the board of education and several of the pastors of the city churches, as well as the heads of the educational institutions of Macon were invited to be present and take part in the opening exercises.

A musical program specially prepared for the occasion was rendered. President Ainsworth and the heads of all the departments have been highly pleased with the prospects at the opening and the accommodations are already taxed. Four hundred young ladies will be enrolled before the first month has passed.

ATLANTA ARCHITECTS TO BUILD LIBRARY

Cooksey & Maxwell Will Supervise Work on Building at Rome.

Rome, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) At a meeting of the board of directors of the Carnegie Library Association this afternoon the contract for the construction of the new library building was awarded to J. F. Dupree, of Rome, the contract price being $13,595. The time limit for finishing the building is February 15, 1911.

The construction of the building will be under the supervision of Messrs. Cooksey & Maxwell, architects, of Atlanta. It will be one of the handsomest buildings in the city.

121 BUSHELS OF CORN TO THE ACRE IN SUMTER

Returns Beginning to Come In From the County Corn Contest.

Americus, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The returns are beginning to come in from the corn contest, but none will be officially announced until all have been sent in and the results on the twenty or more test acres properly collated for publication.

One acre that was carefully measured, stripped of its corn, and the output weighed and measured, was found to have yielded, it is stated authoritatively, something over one hundred and twenty-one bushels.

Several other acres in different parts of the county from which the returns have been received, measured between 85 and 100 bushels of corn to the acre.

The contest has demonstrated what has long been believed—that the lands of Sumter county under proper fertilization and cultivation, can be made to yield in the hundred-bushel neighborhood every year.

SINGLE PECAN TREES BEAR NUTS WORTH $50

Wonderful Orchards Around Americus Are Just Beginning to Bear.

Americus, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Among the visitors in Americus yesterday was Mr. Edward J. Willingham, one of Macon's representative business men, who made the trip here aboard his handsome touring car and spent the day inspecting a portion of Sumter's fine roads and the several pecan groves in this vicinity.

The fact that so much attention is given pecans in Sumter surprised Mr. Willingham, who rather expected to see the industry developed to greater extent around Albany and Baconton, where he goes today.

Among the particularly fine groves visited yesterday was that of Mr. Robert S. Pryor, who has seventeen hundred acres on his fine plantation below Americus, and Mr. H. W. Smithwick's splendid orchard of probably 1,500 trees in the suburbs of the city.

On the Pryor place he was shown handsome trees of budded pecans, literally loaded down with clusters of magnificent nuts of the "Mobile" variety. This is esteemed as one of the choicest nuts and readily brings from 75 cents to $1 per pound among the fine confectioners of the north.

Several trees seen by him yesterday will yield from 40 to 50 pounds each, it is estimated.

JACKSON PROPERTY SHOWS AN INCREASE

It Will Go Over the Million-Dollar Mark This Year.

Jackson, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—Jackson's taxable property has reached the million mark, as shown by the books of the city tax collector. The increase over 1909 amounts to $83,292, while the total property returned is $985,425, not including the railroad, telephone and other corporation tax, which would bring the figures well up over a million. Of the property returned $562,625 is represented by real estate and the personalty amounts to $423,400.

Exchange Bank Case.

Macon, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) Judge U. V. Whipple spent the day hearing arguments upon the application of attorneys for the receivers in the Exchange bank matter here today, and quit the session of the court with the case under advisement. He will return a finding after the business of the bank has been further decided. Other interventions were not heard.

Then the Deluge.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FACE 2D DISTRICT SCHOOL

A. and M. College at Tifton Opens With an Attendance of 81 Pupils.

Tifton, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) The formal opening exercises of the 1910-11 term of the Second District Agricultural school, were held yesterday in the auditorium of the academic building, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Addresses were made by Colonel R. C. Ellis, Rev. J. M. Glenn and Rev. A. J. Reamy, also short talks by Spurlin Cox, of Worth; Newman Wiggins, of Calhoun, and Miss Eva Hinson, of Grady, the three last named pupils of the school.

One of the most interesting features of the exercises was the singing by the pupils of the school song, "The A. M. C.," composed by Professor Moore and set to music.

There are eighty-one pupils in attendance, with prospects of 100 by the end of the month.

STOWERS IS ACQUITTED

Of Charge of Assault With Intent to Murder.

Hazlehurst, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of the State v. V. T. Stowers, charged with assault with intent to murder, after being out fourteen hours, returned a verdict of not guilty, this morning.

It will be remembered that in April, 1909, in a difficulty between Stowers Eugene Williams and J. L. Williams, that Stowers shot both of the Williamses, from which wound J. L. Williams died. At the August term, 1909, of Jeff Davis superior court, Stowers was acquitted of the killing of J. L. Williams, and the jury in this case has acquitted him of the charge of assault with intent to murder. He will be put on trial for carrying concealed weapons, at this term of court.

SWEAT LOSES LIFE IN WRECKED AUTO

Machine Demolished by Fast Moving Train.

Hon. F. L. Sweat, One of Most Prominent Citizens of South Georgia, Killed When Train Strikes His Automobile.

Douglas, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The Georgia and Florida passenger train from Valdosta collided with the automobile of T. S. Price, in this city today, killing F. L. Sweat, of Douglas, and wounding Mr. Price and completely demolishing the automobile. The machine was caught on the cowcatcher and carried a distance of 100 yards.

Hon. F. L. Sweat was formerly mayor of the city of Douglas and state senator. He was prominent in business affairs, being a director in several banks, the Georgia and Florida railroad, the Consolidated Naval Stores Company and several other large institutions.

BUSINESS MEN TO HOLD MEETING

Macon Chamber of Commerce Wants to Get 1,000 Members.

Macon, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) A great mass meeting on the night of Monday, September 26, and a week following, in which plans will be worked out for 1,000 members of the Macon chamber of commerce is what came of the meeting last night, in which a large number of enthusiastic business men expressed themselves. A. J. Long, vice president of the chamber, presided, and Secretary D. H. Hyman, with a number of other men, spoke.

A committee on program for the mass meeting at the city auditorium was appointed, as follows: A. J. Long, E. D. Hyman, W. A. McKenna, C. E. Brown and W. J. Beeland. Ten teams for working up the membership will be engaged. The heads of these teams will be W. P. Wheeler, A. E. Chappell, D. L. McRae, W. E. Dunwody, A. W. Lane, Walter Defore, W. T. Anderson, James Callaway, G. Bernd and D. C. Morgan. The meeting will be well advertised and enthusiasm will be worked to the limit for the week in order to bring in all representative citizens, from church pastors to individuals and professional men.

A resolution introduced by W. T. Anderson, was passed and signed by all present calling upon the mayor and council for the appropriation of $2,500 for the maintenance of the chamber and also for the membership of the mayor and council as a cooperative working body with the chamber.

The week will be one of great interest and enthusiasm in Macon. No men entering upon the duties will lose any time until every person in the city worthy of membership is called upon and made to join in the public spirit for the advancement of the city as a commercial center.

VALDOSTA COMPANY WILL MAKE GRATES

$1,000,000 Concern to Erect Plants All Over the Country.

Valdosta, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The formation of the Thomas Grate Bar Company in Valdosta this week, one of the largest and most important concerns ever launched in the south, was gotten under way. The company will begin business with a capital stock of $1,000,000.

The company will manufacture the Thomas elliptical grate bar, under patents of E. L. Thomas, a well-known foundryman of this city, with its principal office here. Many of the large saw mill plants in the various portions of the south have equipped their boilers with the new grate bar, and two of the largest railroad systems in the state are now installing them. Plants for the manufacture of the grate bars will be built in Valdosta, at Birmingham and in some central city in Texas.

The incorporators of the company are Ed. L. Thomas, G. W. Varn, W. D. Webster, G. L. Patterson and S. W. Bowen, of this city; A. C. Garbutt, of Echols county; George V. Denny, of Savannah; A. S. Harris and J. A. Cranford, of Jacksonville.

POWER PLANT FINISHED.

Valdosta Has Lighting Plant as Good as Any in the South.

Valdosta, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The immense new plant of the Consolidated Ice and Power Company, of Valdosta, is completed, and it is expected that all of the electrical connections will have been made by Saturday night, at which time the light and power currents will be shut off at the old plant and turned on from the new.

With the installing of the new plant this city will be furnished an electrical service the equal of any in the south of four times its size, and one which will amply meet the public needs for many years.

As soon as the new plant is put to work the company will begin the erection of a large cold storage plant on the site of the old station, fronting on Toombs street.

Death of Mrs. Mary R. Banks.

Macon, Ga., September 16.—(Special.) The body of Mrs. Mary Ross Banks, mother of Alderman J. R. Bowdre, will be brought from Washington to Griffin for interment tomorrow. She was the widow of the late H. B. Bowdre, and daughter of the late J. B. Ross. She was sister of the late Major William Henry Ross, also of Macon. She resided in Washington several years, but Macon was her birthplace and childhood home.

Rules on Small Banks.

Montgomery, Ala., September 16.—(Special.)—Attorney General Garber has ruled that banks with a minimum capital of $15,000 may do business in Alabama, though there is a law that makes it no less than $25,000. The attorney general has also ruled that taxes erroneously paid cannot be returned under acts for that purpose if they run back further than the four-year limitation of the statute.

PICK JOHN HART AS DARK HORSE

In Eighth District Race for Congress.

Rumored That in Case of a Deadlock at the Convention at Athens Today That Former Attorney General Will Be Named as Congressman.

Washington, Ga., September 16.—It is rumored here that John C. Hart, of Union Point, former attorney general, will be the dark horse in the eighth district congressional convention in event of a deadlock at Athens tomorrow. Friends of both factions are said to have centered on him.

To Give Howard Majority.

Athens, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The eighth district convention meets here tomorrow, and from the present outlook both congressman W. M. Howard and his opponent, S. J. Tribble, will be nominated.

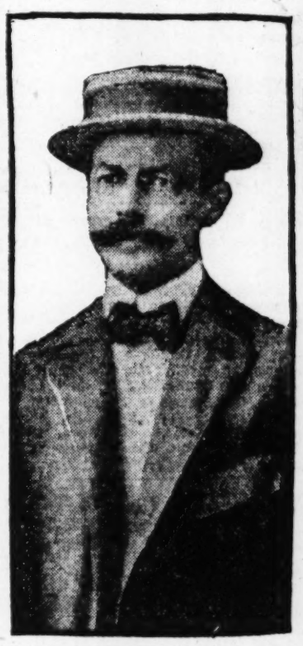

It is stated on good authority that the credential committee will recognize the Howard delegates from Elbert county, thus giving the present congressman the majority. It is expected that if this turns up, the Tribble delegates will nominate Tribble, and both men will run.

THOMAS B. PAINE EAST LAKE MAYOR

Mayor and Aldermen Take Steps for a Bond Issue.

It is now his honor, Mayor Thomas B. Paine, mayor and recorder of the new municipality of East Lake, the latest civic corporation that makes a bid for a high place among Georgia's flourishing and growing cities.

And with the new mayor there are six honorable aldermen: Fulton Colville, A. W. Sterling, Joseph Tilson, Lawrence A. Railey, H. Clay Moore and Coke Davis.

THOMAS B. PAINE,
New Mayor of East Lake.

East Lake is now a city. The charter was granted by the legislature the past summer and the mayor and six aldermen were named in the charter, to serve for a term of one year, after which the people will elect a mayor and six aldermen each succeeding year.

The city of East Lake comprises about 350 acres (it is not big enough yet to make itself felt in square miles), and it has an estimated population of 300 souls. About one-half of the city is owned by the Athletic club, whose grounds comprise 170 acres, including the lake.

Now, don't you think because the city of East Lake is young and small that it isn't going to be progressive. The mayor and aldermen met Thursday night and took steps for an issue of bonds to the amount of $15,000 to pay for the sewer system, much of which has already been installed; $25,000 of bonds for a waterworks system, and $10,000 for street improvements.

The aldermen will elect a marshal, who will compose the police force until the city gets a little bigger.

When asked about a calaboose and the trial of cases in the recorder's court, Mayor Paine said:

"I don't think we will have any need for any police station—not for awhile yet. I have told the boys that if anybody comes before me for a plain drunk I will give him thirty days on the streets and hire him out to Atlanta."

It was reported that no person would be eligible as an alderman unless he owned an auto, but this is a libel, probably started by some of the jealous little towns nearby, who do not like to see the progressive city of East Lake spring so suddenly to the forefront.

One thing is certain and that is East Lake is destined to be one of the most attractive towns in north Georgia. It already has fine sewerage system and will have soon have good streets and a first-class waterworks system, and that is more than some other cities can say in north Georgia, which are very large and not far from East Lake.

PROBE WHIPPING OF WHITE WOMAN

Whether or not Dr. O. O. Fanning, deputy warden of the Fulton county female convict camp, exceeded his authority when he administered 110 lashes to Annie Clare, a white female inmate of the camp, will probably be decided by the prison commission today.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon the commission fully investigated all the facts connected with the case and at its conclusion late in the afternoon took the case under advisement.

The investigation of the whipping followed the report made to the commission by Dr. Fanning, in which he stated that he had given the woman 110 lashes. Several witnesses were examined and those produced by Dr. Fanning testified that the language of the woman, since she has been an inmate of the camp, was so abusive and profane that the whipping was absolutely necessary in order to make her behave.

Cursed 48 Hours on Stretch.

At the hearing Dr. Fanning was represented by Luther Z. Rosser, county attorney, who also appeared in behalf of the county commissioners. Annie Clare was represented by Attorney W. A. James, who contended and sought to show by his witnesses that the woman is demented and is not responsible for her conduct.

When placed on the witness stand Dr. Fanning admitted whipping the woman, but stated that she had cursed and used profane language until he was compelled to punish her. He said she cursed 48 hours on a stretch and that no one in the neighborhood could sleep on account of it.

Mrs. A. C. Wade testified that she examined the woman after the whipping and found no marks upon her body. Robert Gardner, clerk to the prison commission, stated that he investigated the case and that he saw no marks of violence upon the woman. He said he heard her "cuss" while he was making the investigation at the camp. Hill Tuggle, inspector for the commission submitted his report of the investigation he made and stated he saw no marks of violence.

Tom Lanford, superintenent of the city stockade, stated that Annie Clare had been an inmate of the city stockade and that she was very obstreperous, breaking out a large number of window lights when in one of her "moods."

Very Hard to Manage.

Walter Knight, Lon Mitchell and Mark Chapalier, all of whom had experience with the woman while she was in the county jail, stated that she was very hard to manage and that she frequently used bad language. None of them believed she is crazy.

S. B. Turman, of the board of county commissioners, stated that he went out with Inspector Tuggle when he made his investigation and he saw no marks of violence on the woman.

Clifford L. Anderson, also a member of the county board, testified as to the character of Dr. Fanning. He said he is one of the best men the county could possibly get; that this is the first time he has ever been charged with whipping a white woman, and that he does not believe he would do an inhumane act or administer punishment more severe than the circumstances warrant.

The commission took the case under advisement.

WINN HEADQUARTERS AT 12 W. ALABAMA

The campaign headquarters of Courtland S. Winn, candidate for mayor, will be thrown open this morning in rooms at No. 12 West Alabama street, over the offices of the E. Rivers Realty Company. Chairman E. V. Carter says he is now ready to begin an earnest and active campaign, which will be kept up with unabated zeal until the day of election.

"Our campaign is in fine shape," stated Mr. Carter, Friday, "and our reports from all quarters show that Mr. Winn will be elected by a handsome majority."

There will be a meeting in the seventh ward tonight at Caldwell Hall, corner Lee and Gordon streets, for the purpose of organizing a Seventh Ward Winn Club. Fred Lester, water commissioner, will be chosen chairman.

The city executive committee announces that the list of candidates for the primary will be closed on September 30. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee on Friday. The assessments finally agreed upon were as follows:

Candidates for mayor, $100; for aldermen, $50; for councilmen, $40; for chief of construction, $100; for city clerk, $100; for recorder, $100; for city attorney, $100; for comptroller, $100; for tax collector, $100; for city electrician, $50; for warden, $25; for treasurer, $25.

It is estimated that the expenses of conducting the primary will be about $2,000, and the assessments as levied are expected to bring in about $2,450.

Dr. A. V. VanDyke, candidate for alderman in the eighth ward, was the first one to pay his assessment, the money being handed to the treasurer on Friday immediately after the meeting of the executive committee.

LAIRD APPOINTED INS. COMMISSIONER

Well-Known Newspaper Man Appointed to Succeed Major A. C. Sexton.

Montgomery, Ala., September 16.—(Special.)—Major A. C. Sexton, deputy state insurance commissioner, on Friday afternoon resigned to accept service with the Citizens' Life Insurance Company of Louisville. Secretary of State Frank N. Julian at once announced the appointment of Hervey W. Laird, of Montgomery, as his successor.

At the same time, Cyrus B. Brown, who becomes secretary of state on October 1, announced that Mr. Laird would be retained through the rest of the present term, ending with the year, and for his full term of four years, beginning in January next.

Mr. Laird is well known in Atlanta. He has been in the newspaper business for a number of years at different cities in Alabama.

VALDOSTA BOARD OF TRADE WORKING FOR GREAT HIGHWAY

Valdosta, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—The Valdosta board of trade is now doing some of the best work in its history. Many important matters were brought before the board at its meeting last night, and working committees were apointed to push them through.

The board is directing its energies, among other things, to securing the establishment of the Atlanta-Jacksonville highway via Valdosta, and the report of a committee appoined at a previous meeting, was received.

The committee had been appointed to confer with the board of county commissioners relative to building a modern highway from the northern to the southern boundary of the county. The committee stated that a majority of the members of the board of commissioners had expressed themselves in favor of the highway and would put the road through the county in first-class condition.

BACK TO WOODS, 23 AND 13; 48 IS UNLUCKY NUMBER NOW

Move over "23" and "13"—heralded in ancient history as bearing th Indian sign and the "double cross"—move over and make room for "48."

This latest addition to the hoo-dooed numbers secured a nice safe niche in the hall of hoo-dooism yesterday when it gave a well-known citizen of Atlanta both the Indian sign and the double cross and otherwise marked him as the special target of the gods of things as they ought not to be.

Charles Chalmers, of Atlanta, Thursday morning paid his $2 and secured from Secretary of State Phil Cook the license number for his automobile under the new state registration law. Happy in the possession of his new number, Mr. Chalmers rode away. It was No. 48, brand-new and looking well.

A few hours later Mr. Cook's 'phone rang, and this is about what he heard:

"Say, this is Chalmers; somebody 'hooked' my new number while I was at lunch. What must I do about it?"

"Search me," replied the secretary of state. "I complied with the law, you complied with the law, so there you are in a nutshell."

Mr. Chalmers told Mr. Cook that he wished to get another number for his auto, but Mr. Cook didn't have it. Furthermore, he didn't know what to tell Mr. Chalmers to do about it, except to report the theft of his number to the police. If the number is not recovered, Mr. Cook will probably make arrangements to secure another number "48" from the factory.

ORPHANS' HOME WORK DAY ONE WEEK FROM TODAY

A week from today will be Orphans' Home Work Day.

One hundred thousand people in Georgia will be working for the orphans, offering whatever they do and make to the fatherless.

It is hoped the results will be all the ten Georgia homes and twenty southern homes could expect.

The orphans are praying earnestly with all their hearts for God to send buildings and everything necessary for the coming cold winter and long year.

WITHOUT WORK, HIS WIFE ILL, ATLANTA MAN FORGES CHECK

New Orleans, September 16.—(Special.)—Joseph Clark, a young man of Atlanta, Ga., was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary at Baton Rouge, La., today, after pleading guilty to having forged the name of Henry Wolfe, proprietor of the Palm restaurant, to a check for $10.

Clark's case is probably the most pathetic ever brought to the attention of local authorities. He came from Atlanta here with a young wife a short time ago, but could get no work.

His wife was taken sick and he, in a fit of desperation, forged the check, thinking he might escape punishment, but was caught through the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

After his arrest his young wife was not appraised of the fact, because she is very near death's door at a boarding house in St. Charles street. When Clark was arrested he wired home and his wife's mother came from Atlanta here to help him, but she could do nothing.

The evidence of forgery against him was so strong that he pleaded guilty and was sentenced as above stated. While he was being sentenced, his wife's mother explained the terrible case to his wife, who immediately lapsed into a state of coma, from which it is not thought she will recover.

Clark's sentence is the lightest the law allows and on account of the extenuating circumstances he may be pardoned.

ASK JUDGE TODAY TO MODIFY ORDER

More Time Is Needed for Moving Houses Under Viaduct.

An application for a modification of the order recently issued by Judge Pendleton of the Fulton superior court, requiring the closing of certain houses on Collins street within the next few days, will be made to Judge George L. Bell, of the superior court, today.

Following the order of Judge Pendleton requiring the houses to close within a stated time there has been complaint made to Chief of Police Jennings that several of the inmates of the houses have moved into neighborhoods where their presence could not be tolerated.

The chief of police has stated that if the order is enforced at once he will not have men enough on his force to answer all the complaints that would be lodged as a result of the inmates moving into other sections of the city, and it is understood that this will be one of the reasons advanced for the application to modify the order. A modification of the order would probably result in an extension of the time in which the houses are required to close.

The time for closing the houses, under the order as it stands today, is up Sunday.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company

HERE'S A LETTER FROM ONE OF THE LEADING MERCHANTS OF ROME:

"In 1895 I took a policy of $10,000 in the Mutual Benefit and was so much pleased with the results of same that three years later I took $10,000 more. THE CHILDREN ENJOY Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed, the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by the fathers and mothers.

If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines when medicines are not needed, and when nature requires assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. As you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. To get its beneficial effects it is necessary to purchase the genuine only. Buy a bottle today to have in the house when needed. Put up in one size only. Regular price 50c a bottle and for sale by all leading druggists.

GULLS CHALK NINE ERRORS

Was Worst Exhibition Ever Seen Here.

Score 9 to 3—Crackers Made Twelve Hits—Sid Pitched to Last Three Gulls—Game Devoid of Any Good Features. Final Game Today.

GAME AT 3 O'CLOCK.

Today's game, which is the last one of the season, will start at 3 o'clock, with Chappelle hurling against Flaherty, and a time record is liable to be smashed.

Nine errors. Wow! Suffering snakes! Can you beat it? Of all the rotten exhibitions of baseball the Gulls put it up at Ponce de Leon yesterday afternoon. They played in a don't-care style and made errors right and left.

Nine errors. It seems to us that this is a record for a professional baseball team. No game is recalled where a professional team chalked up that many errors in one game.

The score ended 9 to 3. Bittrolff and Tom Fisher were the opposing twirlers. In but two innings could the Gulls do anything with Tom, while the Crackers took advantage of every Gull misplay, and just to show that it was not the errors that was winning the game, lit onto Bittrolff for seven hits and six runs in the sixth, Frank Allen relieving him in the seventh.

Flaherty scored a home run on a strike-out. He fanned in the first inning. Dunn dropped the third strike and then threw bad to first. Seitz backed up and threw bad to second, Flaherty keeping on to third. Murphy backed up the throw and then let it go on through him, Pat coming on home. This was humorous and enjoyed by the fans, but all these other boots and bobbles could have just as well been cut out.

Sid Smith now has the honor of playing every position on the Atlanta team. With two men out in the ninth inning, Tom Fisher left the box, Sid taking his place and Tom going to second. A scratch hit, an error and an out, three men facing him, were what was recorded. Oh, you spitball twirler!

The less said all around about this game the better, though it was funny at that. Here are how the runs were scored:

Bayless opened up the first inning with a single and Moran sacrificed him to second, Bayless keeping on to third, and when Seitz threw bad to that station he came on home. Then Pat made his circuit of the bases on his strike-out as recorded above.

In the second inning Walker singled, but was forced by Berkel. Fisher doubled to center, Berkel scoring.

The Gulls got two in the fourth. Seitz singled and on Murphy's single he went to third. Swacina singled, Seitz scoring, Murphy on second. Wagner forced Swacina, Murphy on third. The double steal scored Murphy.

Then came the real swatfest. In the sixth stanza Lister opened with a single. Walker sacrificed, Lister on second. Berkel singled, scoring Lister. Berkel swiped second and when Fisher singled he went to third. Bayless singled, Berkel scoring, Fisher on second. Moran singled, Fisher scoring, Bayless going to third and Moran to second on the throw-in. Smith singled, scoring Bayless and Moran. Flaherty singled, Sid going to third, making a beautiful fade-away slide at third when Alcock apparently had him out. Matty forced Patty at second. The double steal was then called for and Matty delayed his put-out long enough to let Sid tally.

In the seventh Swacina singled and went to second on a passed ball and to third on Wagner's single, scoring on Watson's sacrifice fly.

This ended the run-getting for both sides. The score:

CRACKERS LAND NINE NEN OVER THE DRAFT ROUTE

THE NEW PLAYERS.

Players.	Positions.	Teams.	Leagues.
Wells	Catcher	Savannah	Sally.
O'Dell	Third Baseman	Syracuse	New York State.
Zimmerman	Outfielder	Utica	New York State.
Balenti	Third Baseman	Savannah	Sally.
Torray	Pitcher	Lansing	Southern Michigan.
Miller	Pitcher	Fort Wayne	Central.
Flowers	Pitcher	Greenville	Carolina.
Compton	Pitcher	Wheeling	Central.
Britton	Pitcher	Williamsport	Tri-State.

Atlanta lost Swayne, a .339 hitter and outfielder, with Trenton, in the Tri-State, Newark getting him. They also lost Outfielder Howard, of Savannah, and Pitcher Corns, of Fort Wayne, though who got the last two is not known yet.

The above shows just how the Atlanta team fared in the drafting process, which opened on Thursday, announcement of the successful drafting teams being announced by Secretary Farrell last night.

Atlanta filed drafts for twelve men and secured nine, a fine percentage. A point not to be overlooked in this connection is that the Crackers got all of these players by lot, too. In seasons gone by the Crackers have always been unlucky when the drafting was left to drawing by lot, but this seemed to be Atlanta year. Birmingham secured two men and Nashville two. The other Southern League clubs did not secure any.

However, Secretary Farrell may make a further announcement today in which some of the other Southern League clubs may get men and in which Atlanta may figure some more.

The records of the new men are not obtainable at the present writing, but probably will be shortly. However, these men were drafted on the recommendation of two big league scouts who know good men when they see them, and they are all touted very highly.

Thirteen New Men.

This makes thirteen new men for the Cracker team of 1911 to date, and others will follow. Outfielder Fenlon, Catcher Ulrich, Shortstop Coombs and Pitcher Johns have already been purchased.

Pitcher Mayer may be secured from Brooklyn, though this is not definite. The Crackers are after a couple of good first basemen, and will probably take a few players of different positions when the big leagues get into their thirty-five-player limit this winter.

That the local club is willing to spend money is evidenced by the fact that to date they have spent $10.250 for new players for next season and are going to spend more. Surely that is some spending for a minor league club and worthy of consideration by Atlanta fans.

Here is the complete list of players drafted, by whom and from whom, as issued by Secretary Farrell:

The Complete List.

Auburn, N. Y., September 16.—John H. Farrell, secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, today gave out the list of drafted players in Class A. More than $50,000 was deposited with Secretary Farrell for the drafted men.

SOUTHERN SEASON CLOSES TODAY

Teams Will Probably Finish in Their Present Order.

The tenth annual season of the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs will be brought to a close today. The teams play on the final day as follows:

Mobile in Atlanta.
Montgomery in Chattanooga.
New Orleans in Nashville.
Birmingham in Memphis.

The clubs will probably finish in the order in which they now stand, though there is a possibility of one game affecting the status of the standings of the four last teams.

It has not been what one could call a successful season, that is from a financial standpoint, though there has been some mighty good ball played. But either one team or the other has always been so far in the lead as to make it practically uninteresting during the season. Here's hoping for a closer race next season.

EXCURSION TO BIRMINGHAM VIA SEABOARD.

$2.50 round trip, Tuesday, September 27. Special train leaves old depot 8:00 a. m. No stops. Earliest arrival Birmingham.

PRESENT WILL BE GIVEN SMITH

Contributions Close at 10 O'Clock This Morning.

Today at the ball park Sidney Smith, the star backstop and general utility man of the Crackers, will be given a present, the donation of the fans of Atlanta, who have appreciated the fine work he has given the team this season and who wish to give him a remembrance when he leaves for the big leagues.

The nature of the present will not be divulged until it is presented, this being in the nature of a surprise. Umpire Bill Hart will be asked to make the presentation.

You fans who have not contributed will have a chance to do so by 10 o'clock this morning, when the fund will be closed. The box at Tom Pitts' cigar store, in the hands of H. N. Weatherley, will be running until that time; or you can send your contributions to the sporting editor.

Here is how the fund stands up through last night:

Previously acknowledged	$18.40

PAT FLAHERTY CLOSES SEASON

Pat Flaherty, the peppery box artist, has the honor of twirling the last game of the Southern League season for the Crackers, and he is chosen to try to lower the time record for all time for this season.

The world's time record was made by the Shreveport and Atlanta teams at Piedmont Park, John McMakin twirling for Atlanta and Bill Bartley for Shreveport. The score was 4 to 3 in Atlanta's favor, the Crackers making eleven hits, the Pirates nine, the Crackers making three errors and the Pirates four. The game was played in forty-four minutes.

This season's record was made at Memphis by the Birmingham and Memphis teams on Thursday, the time being one hour.

FOWNES AND TUCKERMAN WIN SIMI-FINALS IN GOLF

Brookline, Mass., September 16.—The mid-west will meet the western edge of the east for the amateur golf championship of the country at the Country Club tomorrow, for the winners today in the semi-final round were Warren Wood, of Homewood Club, Chicago, and William C. Fownes, Jr., of the Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburg. The losers, both of whom went down on the home green, were Walter R. Tuckerman, of the Stockbridge, Mass., Golf Club, and Charles Evans, Jr., of the Edgewater Golf Club, of Chicago. Wood won from Tuckerman by 2 up, and Fownes from Evans by 1 up.

The much neglected putter settled the matches today. Wood ran down half a dozen putts of more than 10 feet on the greens, while Fownes' stability in that important department won the other match.

The cards of the two matches follow:

MORNING PRACTICE AT TECH FLATS

The Tech football team is holding a daily morning practice and the boys are rounding into some kind of shape with each succeeding practice. With another week's workout they will be ready to engage in the hardest kind of scrimmage work.

Tackling the dummy, falling on the ball, kicking, making forward passes and signal work is the order of their practice at the present writing.

Next week it is expected that the Yellow Jackets will have the largest squad of men out for the football team that has ever turned out in the history of the squad. With promised new arrivals, it is expected that the Tech squad will number sixty men on Monday.

There is a possibility of the Tech team getting into action on September 24 against the strong Olympians, as an attraction for the many Odd Fellows who will be in the city.

ERSKINE MAYER HAS RETURNED

Erskine "Scissors" Mayer, the former Tech hurler, whom the Crackers had in the spring and turned over to Fayetteville, is back in the city and looking his best.

Mayer had a splendid season. He twirled thirty-one games, winning twenty-four, losing four and tying three, which is some record for the youngster, and bids fair to show what he will do if the Crackers get him back, as they expect.

Lookouts 9, Climbers 5.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 16.—Both teams combined to make today's game a joke. In the early innings Siever tossed 'em over until men got on, when he would pitch good ball. In the latter part of the game, the locals refused to field ground balls, manufacturing hits for the visitors. The Montgomery team did not try to play ball at any stage. The score:

BUSINESS MEN WILL TAKE OVER FRANCHISE

Richard Tillis, Owner of the Montgomery Team, Has Quit.

Montgomery, Ala., September 16.—Baseball losses in Montgomery have been heavy this year, Richard Tillis, owner of the franchise, has called upon the business men to take over the burden and carry on the sport next year. At a meeting of the Business Men's League today a committee was named to prepare plans for a local corporation to take the team in hand. It was reported that two cities had made good offers for the franchise.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES ON SYRACUSE TRACK

Syracuse, N. Y., September 16.—The most successful grand circuit meeting Syracuse has had closed today, with four good races, in which close finishes and fast time abounded.

Sarah Ann Patch was a decisive winner in the 2:15 pace, taking it in straight heats. An extra heat was required in the 2:11 trot, in which J. Gahaghan drove the bay gelding Startle to ultimate victory. There was a splendid field in the 2:15 trot, but Peter Dorsey had enough to take the race in straight heats. Summary:

ECLECTIC MEDICOS TO HAVE GOOD TEAM

The Georgia Eclectic Meds will turn out a strong eleven this fall, judging from present indications. Only a few of the 1909 eleven will not be back. But there will be plenty of new material to make up the their loss.

Sam Green, the plucky quarter will again lead the Blue and White, and this fact alone assures the Eclectic followers of a good team this season. Manager Groover will have his schedule ready soon.

Corroborative Evidence—Indorsed by Physicians

THE WONDERFUL BLOOD CELL TREATMENT

After examining from day to day the patients suffering from the diseases for which Dr. Thomas' Blood Cell Remedies have been perfected, many physicians are now recommending suffering mankind to avail themselves of the treatment and formulae as perfected by Dr. Thomas.

The names and addresses of these physicians will be gladly supplied on request.

Only those who are watching the life's blood ebb away through their offspring can appreciate what this most scientific discovery, made by Dr. Thomas almost a decade ago, to which time has added only greater and stronger evidence of the basic principles which must underlie any form of treatment that can be submitted to the best authors and educators.

DR. JACQUES THOMAS

No Money Required to Commence Treatment or a Dollar Need Be Paid Unless a Cure Is Effected, My Policies.

COOL WAVE NEARS END; WARM WEATHER COMING

Forecaster Von Herrmann Promises It Will Be Fair Today.

The cool wave is about over.

Warmer weather beyond the Mississippi developed yesterday, and as a result the weather will be considerably warmer in Atlanta today. It will also be fair. In the language of

HE GOT LOST IN THE WOODS.

Weather Forecaster von Herrmann—which may or may not be understood by the layman—"a new atmospheric disturbance appeared in the Canadian northwest, accompanied by southerly winds and warmer weather west of the Mississippi river. As the disturbance passes eastward across the lakes warmer weather will result in the south, and at Atlanta the weather may be expected to become moderately warmer Sunday and Monday."

"I have heard that people lost in the woods invariably walk in a circle," remarked the Gopher, "but I never knew that an automobile would do that stunt. Here's evidence, first-hand, to prove it, however.

"One automobile was trailing another through the hills of Alabama and on the way to Georgia, when night approached. The party in the second machine had fallen considerably to the rear, and when the shades of night approached the driver decided to speed up a little and overtake the party in his front. Well, he speeded considerable, but he couldn't overtake the other to any noticeable extent.

"As a last resort they stopped at a cabin and asked how far ahead the other fellow was.

"'He's about fifteen minutes ahead of you,' replied the native.

"'Well, if that's all we'll soon overtake him,' replied the driver, and he hooked her over to the last notch. Mile after mile of Alabama soil sped by and still there was no cheering glimmer of automobile tail lights in the distant scenery.

"When the first rays of the morning sun began to drive away the darkness the weary driver brought his machine to a stop in front of a cabin along the road.

"'Have you seen an automobile pass here recently?' he asked of the inhabitant.

"'Yes,' came the somewhat irritated reply, 'I told you last night he was about fifteen minutes ahead of you.'

"The whole night through that automobile had been burning up gasoline over the same road and back again."

JOHN E. STILLMAN BOOSTS PENSACOLA

John E. Stillman, collector of the port of Pensacola, Fla., past president of the Pensacola chamber of commerce and president of the Pensacola Investment Company, is in the city for a few days, watching the launching of the "Pensacola city lots" campaign,

JOHN E. STILLMAN,
Collector of the Port at Pensacola, Fla.

which is being conducted by the Fisher Real Estate Agency, of Pensacola, with their Atlanta headquarters in room 631, Candler building.

Mr. Stillman is heavily interested in this property, and is one of the group of modern city builders who have been active in the movement of making Pensacola the most progressive sea port on the gulf.

Mr. Stillman, who is a big man in every sense of the word, says that Pensacola's exports have increased from a little less than $3,500,000 in 1890 to nearly $23,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910. In the same period the total taxable values have jumped from $3,225,000 to $10,500,000.

Mr. Stillman says that Pensacola is enjoying a rapid and solid growth, specially induced by the recognition that with the opening of the Panama canal three years hence, her perfect harbor, deeper and nearer to Panama than any of the gulf ports, will be in demand to meet the requirements of the change in the trend of traffic from east to west, as it now exists, to north and south in the future, and her people are confidently expecting a phenomenal increase in population, and are preparing to take care of it.

The campaign of advertising planned by the chamber of commerce, Progressive League and leading real estate firms of Pensacola is very comprehensive, and will be carried into leading cities of the south, east and north. This campaign was begun in Atlanta, because this city is the real live wire of the south, and has already demonstrated the true spirit that is the most necessary element in the upbuilding of a country. "The south," says Mr. Stillman, "in my judgment, has such wonderful possibilities in her undeveloped resources that there is glory and material benefit enough for each and every section, according to the peculiar and specific advantages of each, and one section cannot grow and prosper without benefit to the whole south."

Mr. Stillman is stopping at the Piedmont hotel and is being entertained by St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Massengale Advertising Agency.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON CLOSED NEAR BEST OF THE SESSION

Showed Net Advance of 9 to 11 Points---Spot Cotton 10 Points Up.

New York, September 16.—There was a further advance in the cotton market during today's trading, with closing prices a little off from top, but steady at a net gain of 9@11 points on covering, support from trade interests and reports of steadier spot markets in the south.

The market opened at an advance of 2 to 8 points and quickly sold to net gain of 4 to 10 points on overnight buying orders, local covering and some fresh demand from outside sources, based on a bullish private condition report, which indicated a deterioration of 5 per cent in crop prospects during the past two weeks. Demand semed to have been pretty well exhausted on this advance and the market during the middle of the morning turned easier, under realizing and a renewal of bear pressure, but after selling off to within near last night's finals again steadied. There appeared to be no particular news item to account for the increased demand, but buying improved and later there was renewed covering on early advices from the south, showing southern spot markets to be generally firmer and unchanged to ⅛ higher. Prices at the best point showed a net gain of 12@16 points, this making a new high ground for the movement and an advance of 25@35 points from the low level of the week. Realizing caused slight reactions from these figures, but there was good buying at a setback of 6@7 points from the best. Large spot people were credited with buying considerable October and December during the day, but probably the bulk of the demand came from recent sellers who were rendered nervous by bullish crop reports and the failure of southern markets to work rapidly lower with the approach of the general picking season.

Receipts at the ports today 341,846 bales, against 19,458 last week and 53,262 last year. For the week 170,000, against 94,850 last week and 241,526 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 970 bales, against 1,800 last year.

Spot closed quiet at 10 points higher; middling uplands 13.90; middling gulf 14.15; sales 742 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, September 16.—Spot cotton steady and ⅛c up; sales on the spot 400 bales; to arrive 1,600; low ordinary 10 1-16, nominal; ordinary 10⅞, nominal; good ordinary 12 5-16; strict good ordinary 12 11-16; low middling 13; strict low middling 13¼; middling 13½; strict middling 13⅝; good middling 13¾; strict good middling 13 15-16; middling fair 14 3-16; middling fair to fair 14 9-16; fair 14 15-16, nominal; receipts 970; stock 15,050.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 6 to 10 points. Cables were favorable, but the chief bullish influence at work was the rumor that a well known private crop reporting bureau was out with a condition report of 68 per cent of the normal, thereby indicating a loss of 5 points for the first half of September. This rumor was not confirmed, but it had its effect on prices just the same. The weather was favorable, but did not stimulate short selling. Trading was brisk on the first call, but soon fell off and commission houses complained that the bills of lading question was hurting their business. At the end of the first half-hour of the trading, prices were 8 to 9 points up.

The market was very steady throughout the morning session. Reports from Texas were received stating that recent rains had come too late in many localities to be of benefit to cotton and that the crop had made about all it could make this season. These accounts caused nervousness among shorts, who, up to now, have been confident that there was a chance for a bumper crop in Texas. Large exports from Galveston, amounting to 45,574 bales, all but 5,054 bales of which were destined for the continent of Europe, increased the nervousness of shorts and offset the effect of considerable profit-taking by longs. At noon prices were still 8 to 9 points up.

In the afternoon session, the market was dull, but very steady. On extremely limited trading, prices were well maintained and even sent a point or two higher than in the morning.

At 2 o'clock the trading months were 10 points up.

The close was very steady at an advance of 9 to 10 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, September 16. — The gray goods division of the cotton goods market in print cloths and similar goods is somewhat easy. The coarser yarn goods hold their values steadily. The finer yarn goods also are firm. Carpet wools have been sold at concessions and domestic pulled Woods have sold lower in small lots. The jobbers continue to report a seasonable trade coming forward in small quantities from widely separated territories.

UNDERTONE WAS HEAVY IN THE STOCK MARKET

Most Transactions Were in United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific.

New York, September 16.—There was no general clearness of conception and no great strength of conviction on values of securities reflected in the action of the stock market today. The situation and uncertainty was written on the face of the market. The undertone was heavy and sometimes weak, but at other times there was evidence of resisting power and signs of support which implied a protective influence. The transactions in United States Steel were more than double those in any other one security and when dealings in Reading and Union Pacific were added there was not much left of the rest of the market. The great preponderance of the operations in United States Steel gave that stock a large sympathetic effect on the general market. Discussion of the iron and steel trade, in fact, occupied much of the attention of those dealing in stocks. The hopeful spirit of the remarks of Chairman Gary, of the steel corporation's board of directors, upon his return from abroad, was penetrated by the scrutinizing of the reservations contained in the forecast. The weight attached by Judge Gary to politics as a restraint on business activity did not allow an inference of hopes of early activity in the trade. It was perceived, also, that the chairman dwelt on the accumulation of old orders as the source of any prosperous activity at the present time, and a casual reference to "only half our capacity per day in new orders," was seized upon for unfavorable deductions. There was very insistent talk, also, of an open cut in prices of steel products in contemplation. The absence of official information on the subject weighed on the market.

Some effect to this influence was the report on European copper stocks, showing a decrease in two weeks of upwards of four million pounds and bringing the European visible supply down to the lowest level touched in a twelve month. The exports of copper from New York for the past week were reported, at the same time, at 10,483 tons, compared with 5,741 in the corresponding week of last year. Copper securities in London were favorably affected by this showing and were given some power of resistance in the New York market.

The preliminary estimates of the week's currency movement were interesting as indicating a balance of receipts over shipments of currency by express from the interior. The loss of cash on subtreasury operations of $6,035,000 seems to be thus reduced to little more than $5,000,000. The complication over the financing of the cotton movement remained a subject for consideration in connection with the money situation. So did the report from Washington that the August statistics again showed an excess value of imports over exports, thus turning the balance for the eight months' foreign trade of the United States against this country. The discrepancy thus implied in the price level of commodities in this country in relation to the rest of the world gave force to the fears of further decline in prices of steel and copper as necessary preliminaries to trade revival.

The unfavorable weather reported for the corn crop was a sustaining factor. The signs of support for the Harriman stocks on the decline turned the market and prompted the covering of shorts which closed the market strong.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $1,755,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

London Stock Market.

London, September 16.—American securities opened steady and a fraction higher today. Tight support advanced prices during the early dealings. At noon the market was steady and from one-quarter to seven-eights above yesterday's New York closing. The improvement disappeared under Wall street selling, and the market closed easy.

COVERING BY SHORTS STRENGTHENED WHEAT

In the Afternoon Market Was Turned From Weakness Into Strength.

Chicago, September 16.—Covering by some of the larger shorts stampeded the smaller ones this afternoon and turned the wheat market from weakness into apparent strength. It was because of the smallness of trade at the time, however, that the purchases took so much effect. Closing prices showed a net rise of ⅞ to 1@1⅛. Corn finished ⅝ to ¾@⅞ down, oats unchanged to ½ up and provisions at 20 loss to 10 advance.

Wheat closed at the best figures of the day, the market being oversold. At no time was the situation as weak as predicted following the depression in both the domestic and foreign centers yesterday. Talk of export sales had much to do with bringing about an upward turn. Another bullish factor was a substantial falling off in world shipments as compared with last week. Attention also was given sharply to an estimate that the total Russian production of grain is 150,000,000 short of last year. Preceding the final flurry among the shorts in the future pit there was firmness in cash wheat. September, too, was somewhat stiffer than other months. December ranged from 97⅞ to 99⅝, closing strong at the last named price, a gain of ⅞ over the latest quotations of the previous session.

Corn, although weak, rallied somewhat with wheat late in the day. In this process small shorts were run to cover, but larger shorts took hold and the market sold off again. Considerable interest developed regarding a statement that Alabama had raised 100,000,000 bushels of corn this year against 44,000,000 bushels last year. December fluctuated between 52¾ and 53⅝, and closed steady at 53½, a net decline of ⅝. The cash market was weak. No. 2 yellow closed at 55½@56.

With country sales lighter, receipts here slim and shipping call fair, oats ruled firm. December sold from 35 to 35½, finishing ¼ up at 35½.

After an early demand was supplied, hog products lost ground. In the end, pork was 20c lower to 5c higher; lard, 2½ to 10c up, and ribs at 2½@5 to 12½c decline.

WEEK'S TRADE REVIEWED.

What Commercial Agencies Say About Business.

New York, September 16.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow that trade and industrial reports are rather more irregular. The first rush of fall buying is over at many cities, but fall festivals and state fairs still attract visitors to markets, the result being a fair to good volume of fall jobbing and retail trade. Western reports are still the most optimistic and liberal marketing of cereal crops has made far more plentiful money supplies and an apparently easier position of western banks. The cotton crop movement is expanding with beneficial effect upon trades and collections at many markets. Conservatism still governs, however; demand is largely for staple lines and actual requirements still dominate. Reports from leading industries are of rather less than normal expansion in activity. Iron and steel are reported no more active and a larger volume of capacity is reported unemployed.

Curtailment is still in evidence in the leading textile industries. The eastern shoe trade is reported to be working only two-thirds of the shoe machinery capacity.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending September 15, were 210, against 173 last week, 198 in the like week of 1909; 266 in 1908; 197 in 1907, and 171 in 1906. Business failures in Canada for the week number 30, which compares with 18 for last week and with 30 for the like week in 1909.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week ending Setember 15, aggregate 2,174,052 bushels, against 1,511,068 last week and 2,286,891 this week last year. For the eleven weeks ending September 15, exports are 15,950,694 bushels, against 22,119,422 in the corresponding period last year.

Corn exports for the week are 174,039 bushels, against 276,452 last week and 95,540 in 1909. For the eleven weeks ending September 15, corn exports are 2,762,896 bushels, against 1,140,943 last year.

Argo, Jester & Co.

New York, September 16.—Prices started up sharply at the opening, due to overnight buying orders, but as soon as these were out of the way dropped back again, under realizing and scattered selling by room traders, who felt that the opening was too high. Later the loss was recovered and a new high record scored for this movement, on buying by shorts who were made nervous by less favorable reports of the crop and fear that there would be a renewal of demand for the near months. Figures for the movement so far do not bear out the idea that farmers are pressing their cotton for sale while, in spite of the curtailment, takings are practically up to last year. Trade advices show that spinners are not basing their hope of improvement in the situation on declines in price of raw material so much as an advance in price of goods and are likely to buy freely on all good dips from the present level. There looks to be considerable short interest still to be covered and prices rest on a firm foundation.

Liverpool is due to open 3 points up.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, September 16.—Yesterday the market showed so firm an undertone that those who had expected a decline to follow the weak tone of earlier in the week felt that they were wrong in their position and decided to withdraw from the market. A demand from these sources caused the improvement today, though spinners did not follow the advance over a basis of 13 cents and tonight the local trade look for a further advance in Europe tomorrow. The demand was supplied by hedges selling from the south. Further reports of deterioration furnished the basis for the change of opinion noted above, though buying orders from the south were absent.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, September 16.—Cotton seed oil was firm and higher on covering of some of the larger shorts, new outside speculative buying, strength of crude markets and bull support. Closing prices were 2@6 points net higher. Prime crude, October, 6.03; prime summer yellow, 10.25@10.40; prime winter yellow, 10.35@12.00; prime summer white, 10.35@12.00. Futures ranged as follows:

	Opening.	Closing.
September	10.25@10.35	10.26@10.29
October	9.02@ 9.07	9.05@ 9.06

M. L. PETTY COMPANY
REAL ESTATE, 32 EAST ALABAMA ST.

$3,7[illegible]—Corner of Georgia avenue and Hill street we have a beautiful 6-room cottage on a pretty elevated lot. This is a pretty, shady lot and is one of the prettiest places on Georgia avenue. It is convenient to the Major Slaton school and to churches. This house belongs to a non-resident, who writes me to sell it. Look at this place, No. 363, and come to see us. We can sell it to you on very easy terms. It is a beauty and is cheap for the money.

WE HAVE ON EDGEWOOD AVENUE a corner lot 125 feet front by 100 back. This is a very valuable piece of property. It has improvements on it, rented for about $75 a month. Vacant property in this neighborhood is bringing $100 a front foot. We want for this corner $100 a front foot. We consider it the cheapest piece of property on this street. We can sell it for about 1-3 cash and the balance easy. Almost everyone in the city is acquainted with the rapid growth and developments of Edgewood avenue. To see this corner is to buy it. It has not been on the market before. This is the first time it has ever been offered. See us right away if you are interested.

This HOME is new, beautifully finished and has every modern convenience. As a home proposition you can find nothing to equal it at $6,000. Will rent for $50 a month. As an investment the monthly rental alone will carry the monthly payments.

A FINE INVESTMENT.

TWO GOOD DWELLINGS, renting for $30 per month, in good white renting section, on lot 100x140, for $2,500. A sacrifice for quick sale. This week only.

FOR SALE—OPPOSITE THE ARAGON.

Here is a place 100x125 for $60,000. It is bringing $2,000 a year. It can be bought for $5,000 cash, and balance spread over fifteen years at 6 per cent interest. Suppose you bought this at $60,000 and paid the balance in fifteen years at 6 per cent interest, and figured your taxes and insurance at $10,000, would this property cost you more than $67,000 at the end of fifteen years?

Fifteen years from now this property will be in the heart of the business section of Atlanta, and it's worth approximately $200,000. We would recommend the purchase, and believe you have picked up a fortune.

YOUTH ASSAULTS 13-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Father of Unfortunate Killed by Assailant — Brother Cut to Pieces.

Kansas City, Kans., September 16.—J. W. Sheppard, whose 13-year-old girl was assaulted at Newkirk, Okla., today, died as the result of his injuries at the hands of the assailant.

The brother of the girl, Taylor Sheppard, is in a serious condition and, it is believed, cannot live. The two men, it is said, were almost cut to pieces with an ax and a hatchet before the assault was committed.

Walter Cassady, a 17-year-old boy of Newkirk, is under arrest therre, and excitement runs high.

HESTER'S WEEKLY COTTON STATEMENT

New Orleans, September 16.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement, issued before the close of business today, shows a decrease in the movement into sight compared with the seven days ending this date last year in round figures, 73,000, a decrease under the same days year before last of 33,000, and an increase over the same time in 1907 of 44,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 215,278 bales, against 288,290 for the seven days ending this date last year, 248,502 year before last and 171,572 same time in 1907; and, for the sixteen days of the season it has been 381,260, against 520,640 last year, 453,-177 year before last, and 321,507 same time in 1907.

The movement since September 1 shows receipts at all United States ports 292,973 against 383,195 last year, 323,270 year before last and 180,907 same time in 1907. Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada, 3,713, against 2,526 last year, 9,781 year before last, and 6,041 same time in 1907; interior stock in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year, 22,574 against 50,060 last year, 48,694 year before last, and 32,190 same time in 1907; southern mills takings, 62,000 against 84,859 last year, 71,432 year before last, and 102,369 same time in 1907.

Foreign exports for the season have been 139,875 against 138,390 last year.

The total takings of American mills, north, south and Canada, thus far for the season have been 134,290 against 118,828 last year. These include 70,574 by northern spinners, against 33,522.

Stocks at the seaboard and the 29 leading southern interior centers have increased during the week 11,377 bales, against an increase during the corresponding period last season of 194,292, and are now 185,269 less than at this date in 1909.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the number of bales brought into sight thus far from the new crop, the supply to date is 629,222, against 772,956 for the same period last year.

Hester's World's Visible Supply

New Orleans, September 16.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, made up from special cable and telegraphic advices, compares the figures of this week with last week, last year and the year before. It shows an increase this week just closed of 33,081, against an increase of 88,938 last year and an increase of 97,887 year before last.

The total visible is 1,450,079, against 1,446,998 last week, 1,974,090 last year and 1,793,617 year before last. Of this the total of American cotton is 831,079, against 767,998 last week, 1,581,090 last year and 1,127,617 year before last, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 619,-000, against 649,000 last week, 393,000 last year and 666,000 year before last.

The total world's visible supply of cotton as above shows an increase compared with last week of 33,081, a decrease compared with last year of 524,011, and a decrease compared with year before last of 343,538.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above, there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 790,000, against 1,319,000 last year and 888,000 year before last; in Egypt 34,000, against 41,000 last year and 52,000 year before last; in India 367,000, against 147,000 last year and 350,000 year before last; and in the United States 259,000, against 467,000 last year and 504,000 year before last.

Coffee.

New York, September 16.—The market for coffee futures opened weak at a decline of 15@35 points, under heavy realizing and European selling, which was believed to be in the hope of a further reaction. The French cables were lower than due, but the Brazilian markets made a very fine showing. Receipts at the Brazilian ports showed very little increase over the recent average and early offerings were well absorbed here by fresh buyers and covering of shorts. Prices, in fact, worked up from the lowest during the middle session, but the selling became very heavy after midday, although there was apparently nothing fresh in the news and the market broke very sharply in the last hour, with the close weak at a net decline of 15@47 points, near months being relatively steady. Sales, 158,-250 bags.

Havre opened ¾ franc higher, but lost ground during the day, closing net ¼@½ franc higher. Hamburg closed ¼@½ pfennig lower. Rio, 50 reis higher at 5s sx575; Santos, firm, 7s 50 reis higher at 5s sx150;; 4s 100 reis higher at 5 sx600. Brazilian exchange on London 1-16d lower at 15¼d. Receipts at the two Brazilian ports were 98,000 bags against 105,000 last year. Jundiahy receipts 64,200 against 71,200 last year. Local merchants reported no change in their firm offerings from Brazil.

The market for spot coffee was steady; Rio 7s 10⅝; Santos, 4s 11⅝; mild coffee, quiet; Cordova, 11¼@13¾. Futures ranged as follows:

COTTON THE PAST WEEK; REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, September 16.—Cotton, though weak at one time, has become strong, owing to light receipts and a keen demand by straddlers and spots interests as well as shorts. A bullish private crop report on Friday also had a more or less bracing effect. Moreover, the New York stock has fallen to a small quantity and threatens to be nearly wiped out before it can be replenished. Moreover, the short interest has considerably increased in the last few weeks. Liverpool operators were short here on straddles. Spinners have been buying more freely. Some increase in the inquiry for export has been reported. This might be the outcome of a renewed discussion of the bill of lading question. It seems that London bankers will refuse, after October 31, to accept the "validation" of such bills by the retailers and will require a guarantee from American banks. This might cut both ways for the time being, cause increased receipts and also increased exports.

At the same time a good many people are against the market. They believe the crop is larger than the current estimates that consumption is going to be seriously affected by the high cost of living and also by the relatively high price of cotton, judged from the viewpoint of former years. They think the weather has been remarkably favorable for a month past. They believe that when receipts increase, as they are expected to shortly, they will find the spinners indifferent and the speculative public out of the market and averse in these dull times to trying bull speculation in anything. Yet today, the tone was firm. Shorts deemed it prudent to cover. Active buying by bears, and also by Liverpool and spot people, caused a sharp advance. The buying was stimulated by the Giles report, stating a deterioration within the last two weeks of 7 per cent in Texas, 12 per cent in Louisiana, and 13 per cent in Oklahoma, and the average condition at 68 per cent, against 73.1 per cent two weeks ago and 61 a year ago. The crop is so backward that it is believed an early frost would do a good deal of harm. Prices, it is believed, would have gone higher but for heavy realizing.

WILL OPPOSE INCREASE IN RATE ON WEST POINT

Railroad Commission Will Hold Session Wednesday to Hear All Objections.

Following the report received by the railroad commission that there is opposition to the proposed increase in the passenger fare of the Atlanta and West Point railroad from 2 to 2½ cents per mile, the commission announced yesterday that on next Wednesday an opportunity will be given to all persons who desire to oppose the increase.

The petition for an increase in the fare was filed by employees and patrons of the West Point route, and it was argued at length before the commission Thursday morning. There was no opposition to the increase at the hearing Thursday, but it is understood that a delegation of citizens who patronize the Atlanta and West Point will appear before the commission next Thursday for the purpose of opposing the increase.

Shallenberger Quits Contest.

Lincoln, Neb., September 16.—As the recount of the vote for democratic candidates for governor of Nebraska shows Governor Shallenberger 200 votes behind Mayor Dahlman, of Omaha, the governor said today he had decided to give up the contest, despite the fact that he believed legal proceedings would still give him the nomination. He said any further delay would only aid the republicans.

ATLANTA DECKED FOR CONVENTION

all stages of its growth, different plants bearing at the same time the bloom, the boll and the ripened cotton. Old-time darkies will be at work in the fields, gathering the cotton and singing their typical melodies. Members of the party will be allowed to pick as souvenirs of the trip all the cotton they desire.

Before their return the members of the party will pay a visit to the neighboring poultry farm of Loring Brown. This establishment is one of the finest of its kind in the south and raises a large number of prize chickens.

At 4:30 o'clock the cars will leave for the return journey to Atlanta.

All day Friday and during the evening the advance guard of the convention poured into Atlanta. The original reception committee, augmented by 60 new men, to meet the demands made upon it, was busily engaged in meeting the trains and directing the visitors to the places which will be their homes for the next week.

Bureau Kept Busy.

The information bureau, on the fourth floor of the Inman building, which has the past two weeks has been busily compiling a list of all the available boarding rooms in the various hotels, boarding houses and private houses in Atlanta, had its hands full, assigning the visitors to their respective places. Additional bureaus will be established at 38 Wall street, just opposite the union station, at the terminal station, at the Piedmont hotel and at the Kimball house.

The judiciary committee and the appeals committee passed a busy day on Friday, holding sessions in the morning, afternoon and evening. The judiciary committee is passing on all decisions rendered by the Grand Sire since the last meeting of the sovereign grand lodge and the appeals committee is considering all appeals made since that time.

In addition to the members of these two committees, there are a number of other grand representatives who have arrived in town. Before the excursion starts Saturday afternoon, it is thought that the greater part of the 220 men who form the sovereign grand lodge will be here.

Half Holiday Asked.

In order to insure a good showing of Atlanta Odd Fellows in the parade next Wednesday, the chamber of commerce has formally requested the local merchants and manufacturers to give their Odd Fellow employees a half holiday at that time. Mayor Maddox has agreed to close the city hall at the noon hour and in addition to that will issue a proclamation, containing a request similar to that of the chamber of commerce.

A number of local lodges have reported that they will be represented in the parade by floats. A number of Rebekah lodges have also prepared floats, among others the local Piedmont lodge and the Miriam lodge, of Columbus, Ga.

The Odd Fellows of DeKalb county, consisting of seven separate lodges, have opened up their headquarters in the Hillyer building, over the American National Bank, at the corner of Alabama and Broad streets, and there the Odd Fellows of that county will gather to receive visitors from far and near. Banners span both Alabama and Broad streets as an invitation to the visitors to drop in and share the hospitality that has been provided for them and a special committee will always be in attendance to welcome and entertain them.

The seven DeKalb county lodges are located at Decatur, Stone Mountain, Lithonia, Chamblee, Panthersville, Belmont and at Brown's Mill. No county in the state can boast of Odd Fellows more devoted to the order. P. S. Bell and J. E. Bodenhamer are in charge of the committee on reception.

At the last meeting of the general committee in charge of all the preparations, of which J. A. Hynds is chairman, it was reported that all the subcommittees had successfully carried out the details that had been entrusted to them and that everything was in a state of perfection for the reception of the visitors.

Red Men to Celebrate.

In honor of the visiting members of the Order of Red Men, who will attend the Odd Fellows' convention in Atlanta next week, the local tribes have planned a great torchlight parade, which will be held next Thursday night. The parade will be headed by the drum corps of Cherokee tribe.

The Red Men will also hold a meeting in the auditorium after the parade, at which Judge Daniel, of Griffin, past grand incohonee of the Georgia Red Men, will preside. There will be speeches by Judge Daniel and other prominent visiting members of the order.

At the conclusion of the meeting there will be an executive session of the order, at which a class of candidates will have the chiefs' degree conferred upon them.

Will Confer Decorations.

Wednesday night in the Auditorium-Armory the Decoration of Chivalry will be conferred upon a number of the Rebekah members of Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Among those who will receive this honor are Mrs. Nan Singleton, past noble grand, of Thomasville, Ga. Gholson, treasurer of the Rebekah assembly of Georgia, of Macon, and Mrs. Agnes C. Dickson, past president of the Rebekah assembly of Georgia.

Others will also receive the decoration of chivalry at that time.

A LOYAL ODD FELLOW

M. C. STRICKLAND
One of Atlanta's most active and energetic Odd Fellows, a member of the executive committee on entertainment, and chairman of the committee from the Atlanta lodges, which extended the invitation to the Sovereign Grand Lodge to hold its 1910 session in Atlanta. Mr. Strickland is also past division deputy grand master of Division No. 2.

BALLINGER MAY QUIT THE CABINET

the accused secretary shall be sustained as an innocent and persecuted man, he will retain his position—if they fail to so back him up he will resign forthwith. That this is Mr. Ballinger's present position was learned here today upon authority hardly to be questioned.

At the first meeting of the cabinet after the summer recess, Secretary of War Dickinson, the democratic member, will not have returned from the Philippines, and will, therefore, be saved the embarrassment of participating in what is regarded as largely a problem of republican policy. The meeting is expected to last three days, and the president expects to clear up a number of important matters, but it will surprise nobody here if the Ballinger case occupies a large part of the time.

Resignation Rumored.

Rumors have been constant and decidedly definite here during the past few days to the effect that Mr. Ballinger's resignation would be one of the first developments of the cabinet meeting, but his friends, including his associates in the interior department, have refused to believe that he would retire "under fire," and have pointed to his oft-repeated declaration to the contrary, and to the recent statement attributed to him, that he would resign only at the specific request of the president. Some of these, however, today admitted themselves and the secretary to be alive to the fact that the turmoil and uncertainty into which the protracted controversy has plunged the department must be abated soon unless this important branch of the public service is to become hopelessly demoralized.

Nobody here doubts that a majority—all but one—of the republican members of the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee will sustain Secretary Ballinger in their report to congress. It was said here today by a close friend of the secretary that had the majority of the committee been ready to report at the Minneapolis meeting he would then have tendered his resignation to the president and urged its acceptance on the ground that the dissensons to which he has been a party were detrimental to the public interest. When the committee failed at Minneapolis to take action, as a whole, it became apparent that no decision could be looked for practically for several months.

Position Untenable.

This situation is said to have convinced Mr. Ballinger that his position, in spite of the continued support of the president, has become untenable.

Secretary Ballinger left Seattle yesterday and will reach Washington several days in advance of the cabinet session. His purpose in thus expediting his return is believed to be to counsel with his immediate subordinates and to gain their assistance in preparing for his demand upon the cabinet for a "show-down."

WATSON DECIDES TO FINISH SPEECH

ing that speech finished or "break a trace trying."

Worse Than Cannonism.

Something of a line upon how Mr. Watson feels about the rules which were put into effect by the majority at the convention is already obtainable since the lecturer-editor was not slow in expressing himself upon this point when in Atlanta on the former occasion.

At this time Mr. Watson said that the action of the majority in the convention was a disgrace to the state and the country.

"The action of the majority out-Cannoned old Joe Cannon in his palmiest days," said Mr. Watson, "and apparently without thinking what they were doing, the men who drew and put into force those rules were establishing a most dangerous precedent."

He spoke of the rules as "Those Reuben Arnold rules."

Will Not be Interrupted.

Mr. Watson is taking no chances on being interrupted again, and on this occasion will see that the audience to which he speaks on Wednesday night will be composed of friends and others who are willing to listen to whatever he may say, regardless of their own opinions. To this end only those having tickets will be admitted to the theater, and to R. W. McGinley, general superintendent of the Jeffersonian Publishing Company, at 195 Marietta street, has been intrusted the duty of passing out the tickets to only those he has reason to believe will grant the speaker the courtesy of silence while he is talking.

Mr. McGinley has these tickets on hand at the present time, and a number of applications have already been received. They are being issued as fast as called for. It is given out that there will be no admissions under any circumstances except to those holding tickets.

Atlanta in "Watson Circuit."

Mr. Watson is coming to Atlanta only as a town among those in which he expects to make addresses in his tour of the state while talking of existing political conditions. Since his interrupted address here, when he declared that he would make the same speech from Rabun Gap to Tybee, the Thomsonian has been making speeches in quite a number of towns and cities, and he states that he expects to continue this work until the entire state has had an opportunity of knowing first hand for what he stands and what he thinks of politics in Georgia today.

Mr. Watson will reach Atlanta Wednesday morning and will take rooms at the Kimball house. During the remainder of the day he will receive his friends in his rooms.

Asks Georgians to Meet in Atlanta.

Thomson, Ga., September 16.—(Special.)—In a statement given out here tonight by Thomas E. Watson, he issues a call to the people of Georgia to meet him in Atlanta next Wednesday, at which time he will tell them how he is going to win the case for "Old Man Peepul," and put a check on the "rule or ruin element."

His statement follows:

"Have a great people no redress when nominations to office have been secured by fraud, by deceptions, by falsehoods, by false pretenses, by the repudiation of signed letters and by the lavish use of whisky and money in violation of law? Are the people powerless when a rule or ruin clique, in violation of their plighted word, renew the dastardly attack upon the constitutional rights of the small counties? Must the people tamely submit when a handful of city lawyers and politicians frame up a set of rules which deprive a sovereign convention of the people of inherent, immemorial rights? Not only was the minority eliminated from the late convention in Atlanta, but the majority were shackled and gagged by those infamous new rules.

"Is democracy dead in Georgia? Is free speech done forever? Is the lawless element to predominate? Must we bow our heads meekly when a secret committee seeks to enslave us with new rules which rob a sovereign convention of the right to know what measures are being proposed to it, of the right to know of and discuss such measures, of the right to debate and to vote on all such questions as the majority may think proper, of the right to appeal from the opinion of the chair when the majority think him wrong; of the right to discuss the report of committees and to make amendments thereto? If we submit to such outrageous tyranny, what will become of your liberty?

"In the name of our common country, let good men from all over the state meet met in the Kimball house in Atlanta next Wednesday morning by 10 o'clock. Unless we can put a check upon the rule-or-ruin element we might as well tear down our schools our courthouses and our churches. I have volunteered to become the lawyer of Old Man Peepul in this crisis, and if you meet me in Atlanta Wednesday morning, I'll show you how I propose to win his case.

most favorably. I have just written the factory about it and I think that our sales manager will be down and participate in it."

Augusta Chronicle's Car.

J. E. C. Edsall, assistant sales manager for the Speedwell Company, one of whose cars will be used by The Augusta Chronicle next week in the observation trip around the state, said that he had closed with The Chronicle.

"The Chronicle's car will be at The Constitution building at 5 o'clock Monday morning to join Asa G. Candler, Jr., and Frank Weldon in the former's Lozier.

"I was a little afraid the home office would insist that I ought to hurry on to other territory, but they have heartily agreed for me to go on this week's flight. I understand that Judge Eve, who had charge of Richmond county's roads for years, will accompany us in The Chronicle car. He is a well-known good roads man and an authority."

The Lozier and the Speedwell will leave The Constitution building at 5 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Candler calculates that he will be in Macon by 9 o'clock, where The Telegraph's Velie will join the Augusta and Atlanta cars, and the three will then head for Americus. They will go as far as possible that day, and count on making Americus and, possibly, Albany.

A Velie for Macon.

J. C. Wheeler, who will drive The Telegraph's car, was in Atlanta yesterday, and stated that he would drive a 1911 Model Velie. Willingham & Wheeler, of which company Mr. Wheeler is vice president, are general distributers in Georgia for the Velie Motor Car Company, of Moline, Ill. Mr. Wheeler is also secretary of the Macon Automobile Association.

"We are very glad to represent The Macon Telegraph and to join The Constitution and The Augusta Chronicle in this observation trip," Mr. Wheeler stated. "Macon's Automobile Association has taken a great interest in the fall tour around Georgia in the interest of better roads, and we welcome the opportunity to lend assistance to the cause. The Velie company is in thorough accord with every movement of this kind, and when I was at the factory last month the management promised to ship me a new car right away for this very trip. We are also going in the racing game and I expect to have two cars in the Speedway races in Atlanta early in November.

"The roads are in good condition now and we ought not to have any trouble making 160 to 200 miles a day.

"I will be at The Telegraph office Monday morning by 9 o'clock, ready to go right on with the Atlanta and Augusta cars."

Boy Sent to Pen for Murder.

Roanoke, Va., September 16.—Harry Lewis, the 15-year-old self-confessed slayer of H. F. Zacharia, the aged North Carolina miser, who was murdered here two months ago, was tried today and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. The evidence was submitted to the judge, there being no jury.

DISEASES OF MEN

DR. WM. M. BAIRD.

If I have some decided and original views on these diseases it is because I have been continuously in the work for 33 years, and for 25 years have devoted my whole time to these difficult and delicate cases.

I believe that many cases of stricture may be cured with less harsh treatment than they often receive. I believe this because I have demonstrated it again and again.

I believe that Syphilis needs not only the proper remedies, but careful, intelligent methods and attention to detail in order to cure and cure permanently.

I believe that Chronic Gonorrhoea causes more physical wrecks than any other diseases. I believe this because I know. I believe that nothing needs more scientific methods in order to cure, and the man who suffers from it knows, too, that I am right.

I believe in straightforward advertising and honest business methods, combined with conscientious treatment, and if you are in need of advice, and will appreciate that kind of service, I will take pleasure in examining you free of charge.

Office hours: 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.; Sunday, 10 to 1.

My booklets, "Diseases of Men" and "Health Essays," sent sealed and in plain wrapper on request.

I have been practicing in Atlanta longer than any advertising specialist here or any firm of advertising specialists. Any statements to the contrary are unequivocally false.

POSTMASTERS MEET IN ATLANTA TODAY

The third and fourth class postmasters of Georgia will convene in fourth annual session this morning in Taft hall at the Auditorium-Armory, and the indications are that there will be between four and five hundred government workers in the city. W. W. Webb, of Hahira, president of the state association, will call the assembly to order.

Mayor Maddox and Colonel Robert J. Lowry have informed Postmaster McKee that they will address the meeting during the morning session, and Senator Clay may be present to talk to the assembly as an invitation has been sent him.

in interest of the south felt in this section. The presence will mean that the tour will be given great publicity in the Ohio valley country and that a great attendance will be brought from this section for the landowners' exposition.

The officers and directors of the Ohio Valley exposition, the press department and representatives of the Cincinnati papers will be entertained Monday evening at a Georgia watermelon cutting as the guests of Ed. M. Hafer, of the Georgia bureau of industries and immigration. Commissioner Hudson, Mr. Ansley and all the other members of the Georgia party are delighted with the ehibit of "The South and Its Resources." Colonel Hudson says it is the most complete display of the agricultural products of the south that he has ever seen. Mr Ansley feels sure that incalculable good will be dohe the south as the result of the action of the railroads of the south in making this display at Cincinnati.

The party leaves Cincinnati tonight for Knoxville, where, under the guidance of Colonel S. C. Dunlap, of Gainesville, they will visit the Appalachian exposition, now in full blast there. Colonel Dunlap is one of the Georgia commissioners to the Appalachian exposition.

Mr. Ansley, who is representing both the Greater Georgia Association and the Landowners' exposition, is arranging for some of the best features of both the Cincinnati and Knoxville shows for the Landowners' exposition.

MORTUARY

George N. Mitchell.

If you are worn out, nervous, weak and discouraged, if you are bloated, emaciated, constipated, have headaches, suffer from loss of sleep or appetite, or have any of the distinctly feminine complaints, write to Dr. Robinson for his free prescription and so cure yourself at home quietly and quickly. He thinks every suffering woman should have a copy, for he believes it is the quickest acting, up-building, restorative remedy ever devised for woman's ills.

It builds up frail, delicate, run down women, restores the broken health, strengthens the feeble constitution, repairs the shattered nerves and removes the torturing pains of inward agony. It will make you feel like a new woman, will save years of periodical suffering and misery and will enable you to enjoy the sunshine and happiness which only perfect health can bring.

The remedy is entirely harmless, as you will see when you use it, but it has great healing, strengthening and pain-conquering power. Tested by time, proved by experience. Dr. Robinson is convinced this remedy is the surest-acting combination for the permanent cure of diseases, weaknesses, disorders and afflictions of women ever put together. Send name and address today so you can start using the remedy at once.
